Just home from work and preparing for supper, Ernest Thomas, 625 Battery Street, gulps "Well, I'll be blowed" as he is informed by Times reporter Humphry Davy that he has won Times crossword contest and is presented with $125 cheque.

CROSSWORD CONTEST WINNER

Sidney Roofing Man Takes $125 Prize

The first correct solution in the Times crossword contest has been submitted by Ernest A. Thomas, 625 Battery Street, who took the full prize of $125.

Mr. Thomas, a 35-year-old employee of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company, answered all the definitions correctly to Puzzle No. 5.

THE POLITICAL POT

Premier Bennett said today membership in the B.C. Social Credit League is nearing the 50,000 mark, and the party is planning to step up its grass roots organizing campaign.

He claimed Social membership is greater than all other parties combined—and then some.

The premier disclosed the membership figures on the eve of his month-long campaign tour which will begin at Summerland Monday.

He said the party's growing membership is the result of "distrust" of the old-line parties, and "fear" of Socialism.

Sanich CCF candidate Frank Snowball has written to municipal councils proposing that they sponsor joint public meetings at which candidates should present the municipal and educational finance policies of their parties.

Victoria Social candidate William Chant, speaking at a Norway House meeting Wednesday night, put it in a Social nutshell when he commented:

"And now, to run over some of the parties."

Mr. Chant had to appeal for aid at the climax of his speech.

"I will finish," he said, "with the four principles of the Social Credit party."

And then he turned to running mate Mrs. Lydia Arsens with the appeal: "I've forgotten just what they are for the moment."

Mrs. Arsens obliged with Principle No. 1, and, memory refreshed, Mr. Chant finished his speech.

Liberals are rejoicing over the selection of Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum as candidate in Vancouver-Burrard. His running mate will be former MLA Jay Gould.

Gen. Odlum is returning to B.C. political wars after an absence of 25 years.

Tilly Rolston Says Pro-Rec Was Octopus

'Time People Paid Their Own Way'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Education Minister Tilly Rolston Wednesday night described Pro Rec and its tremendous growth in British Columbia as an "octopus around the government's neck."

Speaking at a Social Credit rally in Point Grey along with her running mate for that constituency, Tom Bate, and guest Works Minister Rev. P. A. Gagliardi, she said it is time the people paid themselves for their own recreation.

"After all, the government isn't Santa Claus," she continued. "Are we going to pay for recreation for every person in this province?"

Mrs. Rolston said Pro Rec would still get $94,000 to help their operation—$19,000 from the federal government and $75,000 provincially.

HANGING YOURSELF

The "mother" of the Rolston Formula, the Waterloo of the party's government last month, then turned to the subject closest to her—financing education.

"You are just hanging yourself by insisting on taking 1 per cent from the 3 per cent sales tax for education," she said.

Social Credit, she stated, wants to see education finance on a "solid foundation" and recession or depression could cut the bottom out of school budgets relying on a fluctuating levy such as sales tax.

Mr. Gagliardi, speaking of the "remarkable" work being done by Attorney-General Robert Bonner regarding the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, said:

"They are going to have to put up or shut up. There are not two sets of laws and the Doukhobors will have to learn that if we have to obey the laws, so do they."

5 Dead, 51 Missing

BUENAVENTURA, Colombia (UP)—Five persons were listed as dead and 51 were missing today in the sinking of the Colombian motorship Dochara in coastal waters of the Pacific Ocean.

Officials said 23 survivors had been picked up. The vessel left here carrying 70 national police employees and a crew of nine. It sprang a leak and sank 14 miles from Bahia de Cupica.

As a result of Mr. Thomas' win, the prize for puzzle No. 6 will revert back to the original $25. The puzzle appears tomorrow. The correct solution to Puzzle No. 5 is on page 8.

Prairies Get Snow

EDMONTON (CP)—A light, consistent rain was general over the Prairies today and some snow was reported in Alberta, interrupting spring grain seeding just as it was getting under way.

Calgary and Grand Prairie reported an inch of snow, and lesser amounts fell at Red Deer, Claresholm, Lethbridge and Cowley.

PUSH-BUTTON REACTION

TV Viewer May Soon Show Displeasure

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—TV sets that will allow the viewer to register a push-button reaction to the program, a $300 video camera, and a one-man TV station were some of the exhibits on display here today at the 31st annual convention of Radio and Television Broadcasters.

Here are some of the new innovations which promise the movies even tougher competition in the future:

(1) A button on a home TV set that, when pressed, will register a vote of "Yes" or "No" at the television station showing viewers' reaction to the program. In this way stations could hold on-the-spot national polls on any subject.

(2) Delegates witnessed the first three-dimensional television. Viewers wearing polaroid glasses saw rocket ships and puppets on the 3-D screen. ABC engineers said it would be possible to convert a home TV set into a 3-D receiver for about $150.

(3) A "Station": This is a cigar-sized camera used for projecting and transmitting motion pictures on television. Some cameras now cost a station $1,200. This one is labeled for only $300. The Station makes the television films look as sharp as those in a movie theatre.

(4) General Electric proudly showed off its one-man TV station. Now at least six men are required to operate television equipment sending out those boxing matches and puppet shows into your living room. But GE's simplified TV station controls will make it possible for a small town businessman to launch a TV station with a modest investment and he'll need only one man to operate it, using film programs.

(5) The Philco people have a gadget which they claim will eliminate the "flicker" from movies. The film runs continuously, instead of the usual frame-by-frame method.

(6) At the exhibit, the Philco equipment also was telecasting films in color. But engineers said it will be two years at least before color TV will be available for your home screens.

INCOME TAX DEADLINE MIDNIGHT

Midnight tonight is the deadline for payment of 1952 federal income taxes.

The local office in the Belmont Building will be open until 5 p.m., but returns mailed before midnight tonight will be within the deadline.

Officials remind taxpayers that the money, as well as the return, must be filed by midnight to avoid a 5 per cent penalty.

Those making returns by mail should use cheques or money orders.

Showdown Fight for Capital Imminent

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—Invading Vietminh Communist forces captured another French outpost today in their drive toward the beleaguered royal capital of Luang Prabang in Laos kingdom.

The French high command said Franco-Laotian troops withdrew Wednesday night from fortifications at Muong Sung, 35 miles north of Luang Prabang, and that Red forces occupied the town early today.

Muong Sung was one of the last remaining French positions outside the royal capital's defense perimeter—where an estimated 9,000 French troops are dug in.

The French said Wednesday the showdown battle for Luang Prabang might start today or tomorrow.

Strike Votes Threaten In Three Unions

Seafarers, Busmen, Saanich Arbitrate

Threats of strikes that will affect most of Victoria loomed on the labor front today.

A strike vote is well under way in the Seafarers' International Union (TCL) and results of the vote should be made known next week.

The 1,000 seamen in the union represent the majority of crewmen aboard CPR, CNR and Union Steamship vessels.

Sailors asked for a $50 monthly wage increase, retroactive to March 1, 1952. A majority conciliation board award recommended a $30 increase retroactive to Sept. 1.

Transportation faces a second tie-up in the possibility of a strike vote among 3,000 street railwaymen of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

Employees, including 250 Victoria bus drivers and bus maintenance men, asked for a 23-cent hourly increase over their present wage of $1.51. A conciliation board majority award recommended only six cents.

The Street Railwaymen's Union has called its nine-man advisory board for a Friday session, when a decision will be made, but some leaders already have expressed "strong disappointment" in the award.

Mounting dissatisfaction among Saanich municipal employees with the wage recommendations of a conciliation board threatened today to lead to taking of a strike vote.

Inside and outside workers rejected the board's recommendations at a meeting Wednesday, and voiced strong criticism of the municipal council's compromise proposals.

The board recommended 25-cent increases for only four categories—truck drivers, crane operators, bulldozer drivers and cement finishers—to a new rate of $1.50 per hour.

A union official described the awards of the board as "non-sensical."

The wages of some of the workers were raised to rates higher than received by some of the foremen," he said. "Some of the workers who are underpaid got nothing."

Individuals selected for the traditional medal in the United Kingdom will receive it shortly after the Coronation.

The medals will be shipped in bulk to the Commonwealth countries for dispersal to persons chosen by arrangement with the individual governments and at a time to be settled in each country.

Number of medals to be struck was not disclosed.

Some probable Canadian recipients are troops and other personnel taking part in the Coronation procession, as well as prominent citizens.

CHICAGO (UP)—American League President Will Harridge today fined six players on the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns as a result of their fight on the field during Tuesday night's game in St. Louis.

Clint Courtney, the St. Louis Browns' catcher who Harridge said was "mainly responsible for the brawl," was fined $250, the heaviest imposition.

Browns' shortstop Bill Hunter and Yankee second baseman Billy Martin were fined $150 each, and three Yankees, pitcher Alie Reynolds, first baseman Joe Collins and third baseman Gil McDougald, were fined $100 each.

PW Disposal Poser Nears Answer Today

Wife Sues

In New York today attorneys for the Marchioness of Milford Haven announced she has begun a legal action against her husband, who is a cousin of Queen Elizabeth.

Lord Milford Haven was the best man at the wedding of the Queen to Prince Philip.

Neither the marchioness, her attorney, nor the attorney for Milford Haven would say what the action was. He married the American divorcee, Romaine Dahlgren Pierce Simpson in Washington, Feb. 4, 1950. The couple has been separated since before Christmas.

Naming Neutral Nation Only Stumbling Block

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—Informed sources indicated there is a good possibility that agreement can be reached Friday (Korean time) on a neutral nation to take charge of Communist war prisoners who refuse to go home, if the Red negotiators will just quit stalling.

The Reds were put on notice at today's session to come back Friday prepared to buckle down to a serious effort to remove that stumbling block to an armistice.

United Nations chief delegate, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, also told the Communists that the UN is not favorable to naming an Asian nation as the supervising neutral. But it was generally believed India might be accepted if named by the Reds.

What Harrison and his team want when they sit down with North Korean Gen. Nam Il and other Communist negotiators is some specific proposals rather than more lectures from the Red negotiators.

That would at least open the way for some serious horse trading.

Harrison has indicated the UN is willing to go along with some concessions on the length of time released Red prisoners would be held in Korea while Communist salesmen attempt to convince them they should go back to their Red homelands.

But he also made it clear to the Reds today that he is prepared to suspend the current series of negotiations unless the Communists come up with some constructive proposals.

Harrison did give the Reds one other alternative. He suggested sarcastically, that the United Nations could handle its North Korean war prisoners in the same manner the Communists handled 50,000 South Koreans they had captured.

The Reds, he recalled, "released" the South Koreans and promptly impressed them into the North Korean army. Harrison told Nam Il that a similar "release" of North Koreans was one possible solution to the PW problem.

"They didn't seem overjoyed at the suggestion," Harrison grinned.

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today the Canadian government would not support a United Nations rejection of all Asiatic countries in selection of a neutral country to supervise Communist prisoners of war in Korea who don't want to be sent home.

However, he told the Commons, he has been informed by the Canadian embassy in Washington that press reports saying UN negotiators at Panmunjom have rejected any Asiatic country for that role "are not strictly accurate." His information was that no such stand was taken.

He was replying to M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, who asked about the press reports and about the government's attitude towards them.

The Association Press reported from Panmunjom Wednesday that the American head of the negotiating team said no Asiatic country would be acceptable because all Asian countries "are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military, economic or political influence."

Churchill Said Working Toward Talks With Reds

Positive Move

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill today was believed to be considering some "gesture" to improve conditions for high-level talks with the Russians later this year.

Reliable sources said Churchill, in postponing his foreign affairs debate from next week until later in May, was making a play for time.

They said Churchill desires to consult President Eisenhower before taking any positive steps. The Kremlin also might throw more light to the west on its intentions before Churchill begins his debate, the sources said.

Sir Alvaro Gascoigne, Britain's ambassador in Moscow, has been told to watch the situation in the Soviet capital as closely as possible and make a report on what he thinks of latest Soviet peace moves, including Pravda's policy statement published Saturday.

Churchill is not going to rush unprepared into a top-level conference with the Russians, the sources emphasized.

They said it also was understood Churchill doesn't think the time is ripe now for such a meeting, but a get-together might be arranged later this summer if something more concrete emerges from the Kremlin.

Churchill indicated in the House of Commons Wednesday he had been giving much thought to the idea of a talk with the Russians.

"I should be very glad to learn that informal talks could be held at the highest level and that they would lead to serious business-like discussions," he said.

"Business-like" was one of the adjectives Pravda used last Saturday in its editorial reply to questions about peace that Mr. Eisenhower had posed to the Russians in his address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington on April 18.

Shirley Booth, Little Sheba, NFB Win Top Film Awards

CANNES, France (AP)—Shirley Booth completed her 1953 sweep of top stage and screen prizes here Wednesday night. She won the sixth international Cannes film festival title as last year's best actress.

The 45-year-old actress was acclaimed for her dramatization of the housewife in the movie "Come Back, Little Sheba"—the same performance that won her a Hollywood Oscar last month. She previously had won practically every award given for her stage enactment of the role.

"Sheba" also won the festival prize for the best drama of the 74 long and short films from 27

Closer Inspection Sought By Bureau

Expansion of B.C.'s motor court grading and inspection service will be urged on provincial government by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Despite staff shortage the service is doing splendid work among the province's 1,300 courts, bureau directors agreed Wednesday.

Commending department of trade and industry and B.C. government travel bureau's efforts to service tourists, bureau directors emphasized the extent of the motor court inspection service's good work is curtailed by smallness of staff and budget.

"Motor-court grading and inspection should be continued and increased in the best interests of tourist trade," publicity bureau will tell Premier Bennett in a formal submission.

World Trade 'Must'—Ike

American Prosperity, Security
Depend on It, Says President

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has warned the nation that its depend upon trade with other nations.

He told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night this is the "material foundation" of the administration's whole foreign policy because "we must trade with others or we cannot exist."

Mr. Eisenhower, speaking informally at the chamber's annual banquet, said defense spending would be cut "at the earliest possible moment" to provide security at the "lowest possible cost."

In defending a liberal trade policy, the president hit indirectly at protection-minded businessmen and congressmen who have been applying terrific pressure for increased trade restrictions to chop down foreign competition.

He clearly was not criticizing the chamber. Just before he spoke, the organization formally called for increased foreign imports, the "selective adjustment" of tariffs and the "reduction of other barriers to world trade."

Mr. Eisenhower has called for a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade program to give

Cheminus Secession Talk Delayed Pending Election

DUNCAN — North Cowichan Council and a committee of Cheminus ratepayers has decided to suspend consideration of the proposed Cheminus secession move until after the June 9 election.

Chief problem, representatives said, was the educational finance question, which they hope to see cleared after the election.

Meanwhile, a delegation will ask Victoria how long the Cheminus secession petition, signed by more than 600 residents, will remain valid.

The council decided that the movement should not be allowed to delay proposed local improvement projects such as a new water source for Cheminus.

mainus, waterworks for Maple Bay, fire protection for North Cowichan residents adjacent to Duncan, and timber sales throughout the 48,000-acre municipality.

Reeve A. E. Beasley, independent candidate for Cowichan Newcastle in the election, said he felt the Rolston education formula contained the "raw material" for a better school cost deal but advised delaying the secession plebiscite until the municipality knew how it was going to finance education.

Island's Exiles Are Walking Dead, Hutchison Claims

Bruce Hutchison, editor of The Times, speaks eloquently for Vancouver Island in a four-author "debate" on Canada's best vacation spots, published in the current issue of Canadian Home Journal.

"The truth is," he writes, "that anyone who has lived on Vancouver Island can never live anywhere else. If he is exiled to some other part of Canada, he may eat and sleep and walk about and seem to be alive but life has gone out of him. For all essential purposes he is dead."

Others taking part in the Journal's good-natured argument are: Rossa Williamson, who favors Whiteshell Forest Reserve, Manitoba; Phyllis Lee Peterson, singing the praises of Memphremagog, Quebec, and Morley Callaghan, who says he'll stick to city streets, vacation time or any time.

BUREAU ASKS MOUNTIES WEAR SCARLET TUNIC

Mounties in Vancouver Island centres may be red-jacketed this summer.

Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau directors Wednesday asked Major H. C. Holmes to ask RCMP authorities to order that dress uniform be worn by Vancouver Island detachments during the summer months.

Currently Mounties wear their red jackets only when on duty at Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, at assize court trials, and on special public occasions.

Atrocities May Lead to War Crimes Trials

TOKYO (UP)—The disclosures made by freed prisoners of Communist atrocities in Korea are being filed by the United Nations command with a view to possible war crimes trials.

Ever since the beginning of the war supreme headquarters here has been collecting evidence of atrocities.

At the time armistice negotiations started in 1951, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, then supreme commander, was ready to go ahead with the trials of captured Communists guilty of atrocities if he got the necessary authority.

The files on atrocities have been kept up since then.

Members of the staff of Gen. Mark W. Clark, Ridgway's successor, refuse to discuss the question of trials in detail. They are careful of complicating the current armistice negotiations.

Vancouver Airport Busiest in Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver International Airport is the busiest field in Canada—and the airport board has figures to prove it.

Produced Wednesday by airport manager Bill Inglis, they show Vancouver airport had a total of 22,000 landings and takeoffs last year.

A poor second is Edmonton airport, which can boast only 12,000, followed by Winnipeg with 130,000, Toronto, 103,000, and Montreal's Dorval airport with a mere 85,000.

"This should be a good talking point when we want to sell the airport," observed board member F. V. Heakes.

Boilermakers Denied Drill-Hole Monopoly

B.C. Supreme Court decided Wednesday that machinists at Victoria Machinery Depot should drill their own holes.

The decision, made by Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris, sets aside an arbitration board ruling issued last February that the shipbuilding company should give boilermakers exclusive right to drill holes more than one-quarter inch in diameter in ship construction.

The chief justice agreed with the submission of George Gregory, counsel for Local No. 3, Machinists, Fitters and Helpers' Union (CCL) that the arbitration award was out of order since machinists were not a party to any of the talks which led to its issuance.

The award came after a grievance arose between VMD and Victoria Lodge No. 191 of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America (I.B.B.H.). D. M. Gordon, QC, acted for the company at Wednesday's trial, and Joseph McKenna, QC, for the boilermakers.

Said Chief Justice Farris: "I can place no other interpretation on the work of machinists than of drilling their own holes—as would be the case with the electricians."

Independents To Get No Aid From Socreds

Premier Clarifies Party Policy In Election; Reveals Poll Result

Social Credit will not back any independent candidates in the provincial election, Premier W. A. C. Bennett emphasized Wednesday night when he made an unscheduled appearance at his party's three nominees' first campaign meeting in Northway House.

He named no names. But his meaning was clear. Mayor C. L. Harrison, who has announced his independent candidature for the legislature, won't have any Socred backing.

If an "impartial survey" taken by an independent research firm before the present government was defeated holds up during the June election, he said, Social Credit candidates in Greater Victoria will have more votes than all other parties put together.

Premier Bennett revealed for the first time that such a survey had been taken.

He explained to about 75 party supporters that such surveys cannot be taken during a campaign, but there was no doubt of Socred strength in Victoria.

Premier Bennett, who leaves the city Saturday on a speaking tour, arrived halfway through the program at the first public appearance of the three Social Credit candidates in the city. Mrs. Lydia Arsens, William N. Chant and Percy Wright.

The premier hostily defended the brief record of his government, and stated emphatically that it did not seek defeat on Bill 79—the Rolston formula on school costs.

"The opponents could have waited for third reading, or brought in amendments in committee of the whole," he stated. "Everyone knows that Liberal cabinet ministers flew in from Ottawa and ordered the Liberals here to defeat the Social Credit government."

Liberals Got Orders, Says Premier

After their orders from Ottawa, he said, the B.C. Liberals "looked for an issue" and seized on Bill 79 as their opportunity to force an election.

"The two older parties," he told the meeting "are facing toward socialism and the welfare state."

Bursaries for Two Nurses on Cancer Study

Bursaries have been granted to two graduate nurses for two years of training as radio-therapy technicians at the British Columbia Cancer Institute in Vancouver.

They are Miss Marjorie M. Rattray, Vancouver, and Miss Reta M. Fisher, Winnipeg, whose applications were selected from among those received from across Canada and the United States.

The bursaries are financed by the B.C. division, Canadian Cancer Society, which is now conducting its annual Conquer Cancer Campaign, and provincial-federal health grants.

The society, which is conducting the campaign jointly with the B.C. Cancer Foundation, works mainly toward cancer education and research, and gives financial assistance to patients in need.

Tourist Parking Facilities Urged On City Council

Several parking meters in chief downtown locations should be marked "reserved for out-of-town visitors," according to Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Parking would not be free under the plan, which is followed by several eastern and American cities. Visitors would be expected to pay the current five cents per hour fee.

Formal request to city council, authorized by bureau directors at a luncheon meeting Wednesday, will not specify number and locations of reserved meters.

PARADE PLANS SHAPED FOR CORONATION DAY

Greater Victoria Celebrations Association has set up 25 separate classes for floats and other entries in the city's Coronation Day parade June 2.

Sections have been designed for floats depicting significant events in British history, those representing various nations and those depicting Vancouver Island industries. Prizes will be offered for decorated private and commercial automobiles, decorated bicycles and the best-dressed horse and rider. Clubs, fraternal organizations and sports groups may enter floats in separate competitions.

LLP Puts College Boy In City Ballot Race

Archibald McGugan, UBC Undergrad,
And Mrs. Doris Blakey Nominated

Twenty-one-year-old Archibald McGugan, probably the youngest candidate ever nominated in a provincial election, was chosen Wednesday night to be a Labor Progressive Party candidate in Victoria.

Mrs. Doris Blakey, 1953 Oak Bay Avenue, was the second candidate nominated. A third will be named at the first meeting of the LLP campaign.

Mr. McGugan is a third-year physics student at the University of British Columbia. His home is at 1519 Oakland Ave. He is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and has lived in Canada five years. He has been in the National Federation of Youth Labor. The candidate attended Victoria High School and Victoria College.

Mrs. Blakey is secretary of the Victoria section of the LLP and has been a member of the party since 1914. The candidates were elected by acclamation.

PROBLEM REMAINS
Nigel Morgan, LLP leader and a Vancouver East candidate, told the 25 persons present B.C. last June broke away from the capitalistic monopolistic parties which had ruled, but the problems still remain.

He said provincial governments have not protected natural resources, and the United States is systematically grabbing resources and causing policies which will mean mass unemployment, decreased annual incomes and bankruptcy for Canadian companies.

Here are Mr. Morgan's comments on the other parties in the campaign.

Social Credit—broke promises made last June.

CCF—sidestepped basic issues of peace, trade and development, and under new leader Arnold Webster will be "led to the right."

Liberals and Progressive Conservatives—they are wooing voters they consistently "kicked in the teeth."

Liberals Warned to Quench Campaign Hints Socialists or Socreds Sole B.C. Alternative

Victoria Liberals were called on Wednesday night to squelch the "insidious propaganda" that votes against Social Credit in the June 9 election will result in election of a Socialist government in B.C.

The call came from George Wilkinson, former Labor Relations Board member, now director of personnel and public relations for Marwell Construction Company, who is campaign manager for the three city candidates.

He was addressing a Victoria Liberal Association nominating convention which selected by acclamation Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Capt. D. J. Proudfoot and William T. Straith, all members of the last legislature.

Mr. Straith was not present. He is holidaying in Nova Scotia, where his daughter has her home.

Mr. Wilkinson labelled "utter nonsense" the remark: "If I don't support Social Credit we'll have a Socialist government."

He said he's deeply shocked to discover how widely this thought—"or lack of thought"—is being talked around.

"We must take immediate steps to squelch this insidious propaganda," Mr. Wilkinson said. "If our people want Socialism they will vote for it and nothing anyone can do can stop them. I venture to say the best step anyone can take to obtain sound, tested and competent government is to vote Liberal."

He advised the Liberals against saying "if you don't vote Liberal, you'll have Socialism."

LET PEOPLE JUDGE
"Let us put our story before the people honestly and forcefully and let them be the judge," he said.

Mr. Wilkinson, a former secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, said politics has no place in trade unions.

"Nobody ever made a political tool out of the trade union movement," he said. "I've heard labor bosses say they'll deliver the labor vote, but I've yet to see them do it. When Joe Doakes gets in a voting booth by himself, he marks the ballot the way he wants—make no mistake about that."

Mr. Wilkinson was introduced by Saanich Liberal candidate Arthur Ash who said Mr. Wilkinson is the man who had the "reputation to resign from the LRB when he differed with Social Credit policies."

On this aspect Mr. Wilkinson told the meeting the Socreds had a lot to say about the labor department, "but I haven't seen them setting the world on fire."

"I disagreed publicly with Social Credit's treatment of the LRB. I still think they are wrong, and I still notice a number of strikes in progress in spite of their brave prophecies about a new era of industrial peace in B.C.," he said.

The LRB, he added, need make no apologies to anyone—management, labor or the taxpayers.

Mr. Wilkinson reviewed the industrial development of B.C.—"development in which the Liberal party has played an integral and leading part."

The campaign manager told the meeting he will not conduct a "smear campaign."

CLOSE TO LABOR
"The Liberals don't have to throw mud. In the first place, you can't throw mud without stooping. Secondly, some of it is bound to come off and stick to the person throwing it, as some of our opposition might find out. Thirdly, the Liberals have a truly great story to tell, without smearing anyone."

One of his reasons for liking the Liberal way, he said, is that it is strangely similar to the trade union movement.

"We are our brothers' keepers," he said. "If anyone doubts this statement, even the briefest glance at the protective social legislation that the Liberals have enacted will prove without question our recognition of this great truth."

Mrs. Hodges, in a brief acceptance speech, said British Columbia needs stable government which knows what it's doing, one which has a program instead of merely "dangling carrots before the voters."

She said the last session of the House was like a three-ring circus at times. Social Credit, she said, felt opposition parties should do anything but criticize.

ANGLED FOR DEFEAT
The candidate said Premier Bennett was "angling" for defeat of his government from the

"The longer they stayed in power, the more votes we got," he said.

To illustrate the "peculiar" behavior of Premier Bennett, he recalled that the premier had interpreted as a want of confidence vote a simple motion to adjourn the budget debate.

The Liberal platform, Capt. Proudfoot said, is not a vote-catching effort.

"We don't make promises to break them," he said. "All our planks will be instituted during the term of the next Legislature."

Wanted: A Joshua

EACH YEAR ABOUT THIS TIME in Washington the reciprocal trade agreements program comes before Congress, and each year—thanks in recent times to the support of President Truman—it has been renewed.

This year the agreements face a different Congress and a different party in power. The pressure is strong among the Republicans to curtail or abolish the arrangement. If that happens the results to world trade will be serious—perhaps disastrous.

The agreements, which date back to 1934, provide that the President may lower certain tariffs in exchange for similar concessions by other countries. The tariffs, however, must not be lowered to less than 50 per cent of their level in 1945. The effect over the years has been that in most cases this limit has been reached. Extension of the law for another year, as asked by President Eisenhower, is therefore not likely to lead to any marked decreases in tariffs. But its removal might open the way for marked increases, and therein lies the danger.

A complete study of United States trade policies is about to be carried out by the Washington government. And while the president has indicated his interest in lowering barriers to the exchange of goods it is not yet clear how resolute he will be in this endeavor, particularly in the face of strongly protectionist Congress factions.

One of the major problems in world trade today lies in the effect of high United States customs barriers, accentuated by other import restrictions which reduce the movement of foreign goods into that country.

European industries rehabilitated by American loans, are hampered in exporting their surplus products to the U.S., are therefore unable to repay the loans to the creditor nation, and require still more aid.

The millions of dollars worth of products which the United States ships to Europe must go largely in the form of gifts or long-deferred loans; the European countries are denied the opportunity to pay back with their own goods—the only ultimate form of exchange.

The same problem, in somewhat lesser severity, faces Canada, and is not being improved by Republican cries for suspension of the reciprocal trade agreements, or by the imposition of restrictions on imports of Canadian dairy products. The solution must lie in a more enlightened approach to the problem by United States legislators, a difficult condition to assume in this first year of Republican power in two decades.

To this extent, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was in order in deploring U.S. trade policy in a recent submission to the Canadian Senate. But their proposal to meet the condition by a process of retaliation, not perhaps by raising tariffs but certainly by reducing the extension of tariff concessions, appears to be heading in the wrong direction.

As a weapon, such a step would be successful on a very small scale, if at all. United States industry is not dependent for survival on the Canadian market. Our neighbors could raise the ante and injure us much more than we could injure them.

But, in any case, such considerations give tariffs only as trade weapons. They have another effect—as revenue sources. Each tariff on an import into Canada means revenue for the government, but it also means an addition to the price the Canadian consumer must pay.

That is the point the Canadian Manufacturers' Association seems to have overlooked: that while the battle of tariffs is being conducted the consumer will be the chief victim. Canadian tariffs are high enough now, as any Canadian purchaser of a car, a washing machine, a power mower or other equipment can testify, after looking across the line at American prices.

To raise them higher, or to halt any tendency to lower them, even for the benefit of the members of the CMA in a trade war of very doubtful success, will not sound reasonable to John Citizen. He will argue that you can't lower one wall by raising another wall—and it's a hard argument to meet.

A Job Left Undone

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S FIRE season will open tomorrow and, by present legislation, will continue until Sept. 30. The period is the same as that in effect last year.

Under climatic conditions now prevailing virtually no hazard currently exists in the coastal forests. That is a matter of secondary importance before the season opens at any event, since the cabinet can advance the opening date by order-in-council.

Similarly, the season can be extended by order-in-council, but the process is cumbersome and subject to delay. While it is relatively simple to determine when dangers will arise as the weather improves in late spring, it is difficult to state when hot, dry days will give way to rain in the fall. That is an unstable time in the woods.

Provision to extend the season was proposed in amendments to the forest act scheduled for consideration at the last session. Defeat of this uncontroversial legislation was packaged with highly controversial forestry amendments prevented its passage by the House.

Experts in the government service want the season extended to the end of October. Under such arrangements operators and others clearing land could burn only if they received permits during the longer period. That is important because it would allow the forest service men to determine whether or not conditions were safe enough to allow such burning in the early fall.

As it is—and as the outbreaks of last year proved—a dry September and early October can create extreme fire danger in the woods. With the season ending Sept. 30 those interested in burning may exercise their own judgment from that date onward. In the majority of instances that judgment is sound, but there are occasions on which miscalculations occur. Last October was one of them.

Operators face two problems in slash. If they delay too long, the rains prevent the slash from burning. If they start too soon, they face the danger of fire jumping guards and racing into timber.

In both cases, their procedure is a matter of concern to government suppression crews. They, too, want slash cleaned up, but not at a time of high hazard. And since it is their duty to limit fire loss to a minimum they logically seek greater control through extension of the fire season.

Conceivably a new government elected in June may deal with this question before the season, as set down in current regulations, ends.

The problem is one which could have been solved if the forest act amendments had not been packaged in the last session. Rather than delay action through contention on other points, the issue should be separated for early approval by whatever administration is established.

Honi Soit Qui Mal y Pense

MANY OF THE EMOTIONS AND feelings which died unspoken in the breasts of Social Credit members during the recent legislative session, perhaps at the instigation and certainly to the relief of their leader, are now finding voice on the hustings.

And the outpourings give a good idea of why the ranks of Bennettism were largely kept silent in the forum of the people. Some of the utterances now being heard, which no doubt will be blamed on the heat of the campaign, could in no sense have been condoned within the confines of a presumably calculated speech.

Take, for instance, the quoted remark of Health Minister Eric Martin, at the recent Social Credit convention in Burrard.

The minister said, we read, "We are anti nothing but evil. Why, in Victoria, that little band of Social Crediters was hemmed in by evil. Well, we fought our way out of it."

That is the sort of wild talk—wild with a suggestion of reckless righteousness—that characterizes so many of the public utterances of Social Credit members. The picture of the little band of intrepid Daniels, bravely protecting themselves in the lion pit of the legislative buildings, fighting off evil onslaughts right and left, and finally retiring victorious to enjoy the plaudits of their followers at home, is one to wring the heart and lift the spirit.

But how much truth is there in it? Not an iota. Such remarks are mere empty vapors, a discredit to any elected public representative and an insult to any self-respecting audience.

The forces of evil may no doubt be abroad in the world, but any champion who claims a hero's medal for encountering them in the chamber or the corridors of the legislature in Victoria is looking for a VC without benefit of bullets.

LOOSE ENDS

Childe Roland's Dark Tower

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

PERPIGNAN, France—Every literate man in the world, I suppose, has dreamed of going some day to Carcassonne. Even the illiterate can sense the music of that word. In it is heard the horns of elfland faintly blowing, and above its host of spires glows a dream of knightly romance.

When Childe Roland to the Dark Tower came, it must have been to Carcassonne.

Well, some time after that noble knight, I came yesterday to Carcassonne—and I was heartbroken by what I found. Probably I had expected too much, after a lifetime of anticipation. In any case, so far as I am concerned (I say it with respect) Carcassonne is the only disappointment in Europe.

This fact is not immediately clear as you approach the place across a flat plain. Against the horizon the ancient walls and pointed towers stand out in brave silhouette, like an illustration in a boy's book of adventure.

YOU must approach them through a modern city and it begins at once to shatter the boyish illusion. However, by an unparalleled feat on conservation, the people of France have kept original Carcassonne absolutely isolated and distinct from the recent upsurge of brick around it. The huge castle, really a town in itself, stands as it always stood on a hill which long controlled the military defense of southern France and guarded the road to Rome.

Neolithic man settled on that hill to watch his enemies. The Romans fortified it as a stronghold on the march from Rome to Spain. No doubt Hannibal passed this way with his elephants before breaching the very Alps. The Vandals (so far as I can translate my French guide book) sacked Carcassonne en route to Spain and Africa and the Visigoths repeated this success in their invasion of the Empire.

ON many successive foundations the mediaeval fortress was reared so vast, sprawling and high as to dominate the Mediterranean coast and inscribe its name, forever indelible, on the racial memory of a continent, on the imagination of the world.

Within that gigantic circle of stone lived an entire city of houses, shops and mediaeval industries, overtopped by a great cathedral. And here, through centuries of religious and civil wars, occurred a series of adventures, conspiracies and atrocities to fill many books. The record of Carcassonne, indeed, compiled by many lifetimes of laborious research and the minute study of every stone, now fills a respectable library.

THE old town within the walls—or rather a series of towns one after the other—has fallen down and new towns have been built to replace them. The present version is like many other French towns—narrow streets, tiny shops, walled gardens, and a palatial tourist hotel. The early walls themselves were falling down until, more than a hundred years ago, a great Frenchman, named Viollet-le-Duc, fired with the old dream, rebuilt everything and thus established the most perfect remnant of the Middle Ages in Europe.

It is wonderful, immense, unbelievable. Yet, to my untutored taste, grim, ugly and depressing—a tessellated and intricate maze of stone but a monument utterly dead. You cannot remain an hour behind these walls, imprisoned as it were in a maze, without suffering an acute attack of claustrophobia, without thinking that perhaps the Middle Ages were not all they were cracked up to be in the novels of Walter Scott and Bulwer Lytton.

THE only sight of living interest in Carcassonne was an aged woman sitting on the stone sidewalk, her back against the soaring outer wall. None but a great artist could have painted that wrinkled and beautiful face, the face of a madonna, inscribed minutely and deep with all the ancient suffering of her kind. Only our own Canadian Yousuf Karsh could have photographed her.

Had my friend Yousuf been with me today he would have fallen into a swoon of ecstasy and produced his supreme masterpiece. But there was no one to record this tiny spot of beauty by the dark tower where Childe Roland came and, thrusting my unworthy camera unused into my pocket, I passed by.

THAT woman was genuine. She had nothing to sell and no property, I dare say, except her memories. The walls, towers, battlements and donjons are genuine also, though slightly rebuilt in places. But for the rest this is a tourist attraction, selling postcards, novelties and the denatured air of the Middle Ages to visitors.

Seated in a stone slot, designed for cannons in the first days of gunpowder, I encountered a modern citizen of Carcassonne who was finishing a bottle of red wine. On his red face was written the epitaph of many other bottles, a lifetime of devotion to the grapes of the hot south.

He pointed through the cannon slot to indicate a "belle vue" across the green plain rolling down to the Mediterranean. He went on to say, in French which I understood vaguely, that he had heart trouble (the pointed repeatedly to that organ) the result of service in the First World War, and added generously that I had a good heart.

THEREFORE, he concluded, I would give him "moonay" for the belle vue, so that he could buy the aperitif necessary for the treatment of his cardiac condition. This I did, in a small way, not because I was sorry for this professional sponger, but because it seemed simpler that further argument.

And so we crossed the gigantic moat on the drawbridge (where there is a red and green traffic signal for automobiles, something which the mediaeval architects had not foreseen) and rolled down the hill of Carcassonne.

From the plain, standing in serrated shadow against the harsh southern sky, Carcassonne looked as its builders intended—a fortress, a miracle in stone, a kingdom of knightly romance which never existed, a dream of Roland and his Dark Tower.

Same Story in Manitoba

BY JOHN BIERMAN, in the Winnipeg Free Press

A SOCIAL CREDIT meeting in Hartney, Man., this week drew to the local town hall (capacity some 200) an audience of five—including one Free Press reporter.

This meeting was one of a series up and down the province's "grass roots" areas in which two of Social Credit's top organizers are endeavoring to set up constituency organizations to fight the forthcoming provincial election.

The two organizers are Mr. Peer V. Paynter of Vancouver and Mr. Orvis Kennedy of Edmonton, both long-time Social Credit stalwarts of high standing within the movement.

Social Credit plans to fight every seat in the coming election, but as Mr. Paynter, the speaker at Hartney, put it: "We are not interested merely in gaining power. If we can't get our principles carried out we're not interested in getting elected."

Unfair to Disorganized Mama

New York Times

A COUPLE of times in the course of every academic year there is something set down on the schedule as a Teachers' Conference.

This means that the academicians of the region get together for the purpose of listening to addresses, exchanging views and perhaps reviving the enthusiasm needed to carry them through the rest of the term.

No one begrudges a teacher a certain amount of time spent among other teachers, or the pleasure he might gain from addresses or discussion. Teaching is a rough business at best, and with corporal punishment now generally in the discard there can be few pleasures left in it. But teachers' conferences have one deplorable habit—they always take place on a school day.

That means the children stay home. That means that instead of doing what they are paid to do, which is to get the children out of the house, the teachers blithely shrug off responsibility.

Why not such conferences on a Saturday or Sunday, when there is no school, rather than on a Monday or Friday? These days make it sound suspiciously like a brazen plan to get a long week end. Since it means children around the house, teachers should be discouraged. A two-day week-end is quite enough.

April 30, 1893 — A Vancouver group, the Constitutional League petitioned Governor-General Lord Derby to halt the borrowing of $600,000 to be used for the construction of a new legislative building at Victoria.

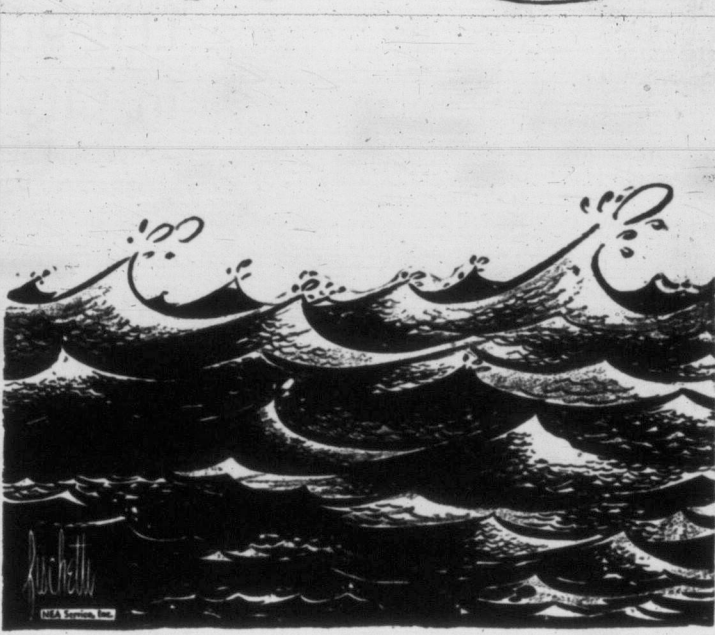

April 30, 1913 — A daily passenger train service to Port Alberni was inaugurated. Victoria wired its congratulations to the West Coast city.

April 30, 1933 — A magazine article by E. J. "Tom" Merriam described Rier Island where 546 Doukhobors were incarcerated as "Canada's Queerest Prison."

INSIDE OUT

Congratulations on the Memorial Arena. It is a credit to the city.

When is it expected that the outside of the building will be completed, please?

When the Arena gets its "face" put on and the exterior equals the interior the building will be even better than it is now.

LEE WILLIAMS.

SMALL MINORITY

In your April 22nd paper an item stating that "Fishermen Return Reds to Top Positions" displeased us considerably. This could be easily mistaken by many of your readers to include all West Coast fishermen.

For your readers' benefit I would like to mention that only a small minority of the local independent fishermen belong to this union.

A short while back this union held a meeting here to discuss prices, etc., for the trolling fleet for the coming season. All non-union trollers were invited to attend. The total attendance was seven only, I am told, a very poor showing, to say the least, considering the large trolling fleet based here.

This should convince your readers that the overwhelming majority of the local fishermen are firm believers in free enterprise and have not "bit on the party's line" and haven't the slightest intention of doing so.

Mixing Politics and Milk

It was most gratifying to hear Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson call for free milk for school children. There are also several other praiseworthy points in the platform he presented: such as the proposal for fair employment practices legislation, steps to increase exports of B.C. products, and the 80-20 per cent formula for education costs.

Such proposals however, should hardly be the preserve of one group or party. As Mr. Finlayson himself said, "people will no longer be swept away with manufactured political issues... instead people are now concerned with the merits of issues."

Yes, people are concerned that issues of this kind should be dealt with on their merits, and in the interests of the province as a whole by whatever party is elected to office.

The voters should not consider that their job is done once they have marked their ballots on June 9. Citizens of this province through their organizations, be they service clubs, community groups or trade unions should be prepared to keep a closer check on their elected representatives.

A year ago and two years ago I showed that 60 per cent of children were not getting enough milk. This situation is even more serious today. The promised 2c store differential on milk is still being delayed. But even this will not fully solve the problem. It's high time some more positive steps are taken both locally and provincially to get milk out of the politicians' hands and into the children's stomachs.

I believe that candidates of all parties should publicly state their position on such issues as milk, education, fair employment legislation and trade improvement.

DR. J. BLUMES.

Vancouver, B.C.

What! No Blintzes?

The fear that I might have got my dialectics crossed appears to have produced an editorial short circuit. I'm very pleased to see that the editors (April 27) are so interested in my welfare. I'd be glad to drop in sometime and exchange political tips, especially since the Times appears to be having trouble adjusting itself to being an "opposition" paper.

Your choice of gifts somewhat limits any friendly overtures, since I'm more familiar with kippers and chips than caviar and blintzes.

In any case, I doubt if gifts of mine could compete with the whisky and cigars handed out by Alcan, Elk Falls Paper Co., and the Columbia Cellulose. It would seem that the newspaper junkies sponsored by these American companies have reinforced your editorial view that the U.S. invasion is good for B.C.

The people of this province appear to think otherwise—since they threw out the Liberal-Conservative authors of the invitation to the American monopolists.

We believe that the people of B.C. want to see the province develop an all-round economy—not become a supplier of raw materials and semi-processed articles to American industry. That is why the Labor-Progressive party is putting forward the slogan in the provincial elections: "Put the people's interests first—Stop the sellout to the U.S. monopolies."

If we can't move you, perhaps you might consider the remarks of the director of the Ontario Provincial Trade and Industry Branch. He said, as reported by your morning "contemporary," that Canada is unwilling to go on trading "cattle for Cadillac" with the U.S., and I might add, many Canadians (not all of them Communists) are unwilling to see new Canadian industries throttled by American control of raw material sources.

BARNEY BLAKEY.

1953 Oak Bay Avenue.

(Ed. note—In a recent statement C. D. Howe revealed total U.S. investment in Canada's boom is only 6 per cent for latest year on record. Our colleagues assure us that Canadian drinks and cigars can't compare, for sheer luxury, with the pheasant under glass and champagne handed the press at the Warsaw and Peiping "peace" conferences.)

MARKED for READING ON THE WING

Birds share a fisherman's world and are part of his scene. Many are themselves fishermen. They are beauty and interest and associations, and they grow richer in meaning with every recognition, every added observation. It is possible, I suppose, to disregard them and still be a fisherman. But to do so is to miss the sport's most brilliant counterpoint.

—Rodriguez Haig-Brown in "Fisherman's Spring."

The Marathon of Words

OFTEN since I entered on a newspaper career many years ago it has been brought home to me that one of the most fertile fields in the whole gamut of human relations has been sadly neglected. I refer to the problem of how to restrain homicidal tendencies on the part of audiences towards politicians and other speakers who do not know when to stop talking. Like Tennyson's brook they babble on and on, supremely unconscious—or obstinately oblivious—of the listeners who beat an early retreat or of those who have fallen into such a sleepy stupor as to render them incapable of getting up or of the more polite people whose jaws are nearly paralyzed through stifling yawns.

MORE THAN A DAY

The foregoing lofty thoughts were induced by reading of the Senator from Oregon who recently achieved the questionable distinction of having made the longest non-stop speech ever heard in the United States Senate. For exactly 22 hours, 26 minutes and an unknown number of seconds, that Senator talked and talked and talked in an attempt to defeat a bill concerning state ownership of oil lands under coastal waters.

FILIBUSTER TACTICS

Such marathon speeches are possible in the U.S. Senate where the debate on bills in committee is only limited by a two-thirds vote for cloture, thus permitting a bill to be "talked to death." Galleries in our local legislature who have, at times, been critical of the length of debate don't know what they have been spared!

One of the longest speeches ever made in the B.C. Legislature was that by J. W. Jones about 1920, during the John Oliver regime. Mr. Jones, who still lives in Victoria, spoke for more than seven hours on the subject of irrigation—and went all over the world to bolster up his arguments against the government bill.

DICTIONARY DEVICE

I recall hearing a filibuster in progress while in Washington, D.C., some years ago, when a certain Senator spoke for over 13 hours. What amazed me was that after he had exhausted all his remarks relevant to the issue at stake, he resorted to the dictionary and was doggedly reading page after page of words and meanings to the mere handful of colleagues who remained snoring in their seats.

One cynical and tired reporter told me of other Senators who filibustered by reading more chapters from the Bible during this talking-to-death process than they had ever read in the whole of their lives before. But I defy anyone to talk for hours on end and not wander far afield from the subject that provoked the speech.

SERIOUS STRAIN

What amazes me is this persistence in talking in view of the extraordinary physical endurance such a marathon calls for. The strain on the throat alone must be enough to ensure permanent laryngitis, to say nothing of what it does to hardening arteries and stomach ulcers.

And think of the effect on those who have to listen. Not that there would be many of them, if I know anything of opposition reaction. But there would have to be enough hardy souls to form a quorum, even a sleeping one.

POOR SPEAKER!

And my heart bleeds for the unfortunate presiding officer, who compares with our Speaker and who, according to the news item, had to sit through 20 hours of that marathon peroration.

It all goes to bear out what I have long contended—that the world which is made up of either voluntary or involuntary listeners to speeches would speedily beat a path to the door of anyone who could invent a patent extinguisher to be dropped on any speaker who drones on for too long.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMAN

Pravda and the President

THE full page editorial in Pravda in response to President Eisenhower's speech must have been written, or at least thoroughly edited, by a man who is familiar with and in close touch with the outer world.

He speaks a European rather than the conventional Soviet Russian idiom, and almost certainly he has often conversed at length with Europeans belonging to the non-Communist opposition to what he calls, in an obvious appeal to European pride and prejudice, "the Anglo-United States bloc."

The President was well advised to respond promptly. For had he not, he would have been caught in a trap from which it would have been difficult to extricate himself without serious loss of face.

The central theme of the Pravda editorial was that there is a radical contrast between the American and the Soviet attitude towards peace.

According to Pravda, the American attitude is that we are not "willing to discuss peaceful measures" unless our "unconditional terms" are met first; "the Soviet leaders," on the other hand, "are not connecting their appeal for a peaceful settlement for international problems with any preliminary demands on the United States or any other countries which may or may not have joined the Anglo-United States bloc."

"Does this mean the Soviet side has no claims?" Of course not. Despite this, the Soviet leaders will welcome any step by the United States government or the government of any other country, if it is directed toward a friendly settlement of contentious questions.

"This testifies to the readiness of the Soviet side for a serious businesslike discussion of problems, both by direct negotiations and, when necessary, within the framework of the United Nations."

The United States would have suffered a severe setback throughout the world if the President had accepted even tacitly the thesis of the Pravda editorial—that he stands for a policy of unconditional surrender whereas the Soviet Union is prepared to negotiate all issues.

The Pravda interpretation of the President's attitude is, I believe, untrue, and the text of his speech, as I read it, makes his intention plain. But it is a fact that not only in the Soviet Union but also among our most constant friends abroad, there has been serious doubt on this crucial point—doubt that was enormously aggravated by Secretary Dulles's speech.

This was the vulnerable point in the President's position, and the Pravda editorial struck sharply at it. For the influence of the United States would sink catastrophically if the Soviet Union could pre-empt the position that all issues are negotiated while we were bound hand and foot by some form of unconditional surrender.

Yet the President's prompt action cannot be counted on to be more than a kind of temporary stopper. The Pravda editorial is carefully designed to test the President's willingness and capacity to negotiate on the two dominant problems of the world conflict—on Germany and on China.

The writer of the editorial was quite well aware—in fact he taunted the President about it—that a serious negotiation about Germany and China is at the present time acutely embarrassing to the U.S.

The editorial writer knows also, and made the fullest use of his knowledge, that on both these major issues the American position is unpopular with the masses of the people abroad, and on the Far East in any event with the governments of the big powers as well.

FROM HOLLYWOOD

By ALINE MOSBY

Katie Dunham, Good at 45

United Press Hollywood Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Katherine Dunham, the international dancer often reported having international romances at 45, said today she wants it known she's not 45—and she has a husband.

A few years back a magazine splashed the report her latest love was Aly Khan, and she was the beautiful reason why his marriage to "Princess" Rita faded. Before that she was linked with director Orson Welles, Rita's ex-husband, and this year the grapevine told of her amour with the Prince of Morocco.

To top this, she complained, the local columnist purred when she opened at Ciro's night club last week that she was pretty good for 45.

"I have been married since 1941," Miss Dunham said. Her husband, distinguished-looking John Pratt, sat on a couch in her dressing room. He smiled and said nothing.

"The prince is just a friend. He liked our music so I dedicated a record album to him. I don't know how those rumors got started."

"Probably when I was seen out with different people when my husband wasn't around," she reflected. "He sometimes returns to New York. We have a dancing school there."

"I've known Aly Khan for years," she added.

She further deplores, she went on, the way "Americans and especially Hollywood actresses make a fetish of age."

"Americans are so preoccupied with age," she exclaimed. "People say about me, 'She must be at least 50.' It's the American desire to cling to youth. It seems a shame for people in this country to be so worried about age."

"Age doesn't seem to be a point in Europe. I think it's because America still is very young as a country. They have not yet learned to approach maturity."

Then there was an item that on her return here she looked "hefty."

"I've been abroad for so long, it's peculiar to see the ads here about reducing tablets," she said. "It's something motion pictures have done. This thinness is a psychosis with Americans. Why can't people be concerned with something that's important, such as good health?"

"And age happens to everybody. It doesn't bother me."

And how old is she, anyway?

"I don't want to go into that," she smiled. "Just say I'm not 45."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1953—423.2 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: It was still raining in the northern interior this morning, this being the third consecutive day of rain there.

In the past three days, Prince George has recorded 1.18 inches of rain. This is nearly one-fifth of an inch in excess of the average rainfall of this station for the whole of April. The trend should be for persisting cloudiness but a gradual let-up in the rain.

Elsewhere there will be considerable sunshine Friday although cloud will return to the coast Friday afternoon as another Pacific disturbance moves in from the west.

Temperatures will be a little higher in most areas Friday as conditions become more settled.

DOMINION PUBLIC WEATHER OFFICE

9 A.M. FORECASTS

Island Digest

GALIANO—Community interest in school affairs was lauded, by Dr. F. T. Fairley, deputy minister of education, when he opened the recently completed Galiano elementary school Wednesday.

Dr. Fairley also paid tribute to the work being done by the local PTA.

Many residents of the island and representatives of the Gulf Islands school board attended the ceremony, which was followed by the annual PTA tea.

NANAIMO—Representatives of several organizations who visited the property of the late Frank Behan Wednesday were unanimous in agreeing that a local plebiscite on the city's purchasing the 163-acre property for $50,000 would be successful. The city plans to use the site as a recreation and sports area.

DUNCAN—Red Cross blood clinic sponsored here by the Junior Chamber of Commerce yielded 590 pints of blood, a new record and well ahead of the 520 pints contributed by residents last year.

LANGFORD—Four one-act plays will be presented at Colwood Community Hall Friday at 8 p.m. by St. Luke's Players of Victoria.

Proceeds will go toward funds for a new kitchen in the parish hall of St. John's Church, Colwood.

ALBERNI—Frank Flitton, of the Alberni Board of Trade, outlined plans at Tuesday's meeting of the board to stage a mid-summer regatta with a program of speedboat races, Indian canoe races and swimming events.

He suggested it would be an excellent tourist attraction, and in time might equal the annual regatta held at Kelowna.

DUNCAN—A by-law prohibiting the posting of bills on light and telephone poles within the city limits will be strictly enforced, city council decided at a special meeting Wednesday.

ALBERNI—Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi will be told by Port Alberni and District Chamber of Commerce that clearing of existing trails between Sproat Lake and Tofo might prove that a West Coast Road could be built for much less than the usual $80,000 to $100,000 per mile.

The chamber suggests clearing a trail built during the war to service military communication lines. It was suitable at that time for jeep travel.

LAKE COWICHAN—Kinsmen Club here raised $1,775 in its polo fund campaign. The campaign was held in conjunction with other polo campaigns by Kinsmen in other B.C. clubs.

NANAIMO—A ceremony was held here Wednesday night to honor the publishers of the Nanaimo Free Press as the up-island daily, third oldest in British Columbia, begins its 80th year of publication.

Presentations were made to Robert Stewart, Ronald Norris and G. W. O. Norris, owners, who have also been members of the International Typographical Union longer than any other members of their mechanical staff.

Destroyer Escort Launched By Wife Of Rear-Admiral

MONTREAL (CP)—A sleek, grey anti-submarine destroyer escort, the HMCS Ottawa, was launched Wednesday at the yards of Canadian Vickers Limited here.

Mrs. H. G. DeWolf, wife of Rear Admiral H. G. DeWolf, chairman of the Canadian joint staff in Washington, christened the vessel shortly after it was blessed by Rev. T. Deschenes, navy chaplain.

The Ottawa is the fourth in a series of 14 similar craft. Designed by RCN personnel, she has an all-welded hull, with aluminum used extensively in the superstructure.

Almost three-quarters of an hour after the champagne sprayed across her bow, the ship moved down the greased ways into the St. Lawrence River.

BARKLEY IN WINNIPEG—Winnipeg (CP)—Alben W. Barkley, former vice-president of the United States, says it might be many months before any peace settlement can be reached in Korea.

Here to address a public meeting, Mr. Barkley said Wednesday in an interview "the tactics of the Communists seem to be deliberately calculated to try the patience of the people they negotiate with."

"I think we are going to have to steel ourselves to be very patient and recognize in advance that there are going to be all sorts of difficulties."

Two Oil Companies Report Gas Discoveries in Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Two oil companies report significant natural gas discoveries in west-central Saskatchewan.

The Tide Water Associated Oil Co. find about 11 miles west of Swift Current adds to the natural gas potential of the general Cantuar-Success area.

The discovery was made in the Tide Water Java Crown No. 10-29 driller. A drill steam test at the 3,200-foot level gave up natural gas at the rate of 2,000,000 cubic feet a day and a pipe recovery of 10 feet of water.

The second find was reported Wednesday by Canada Southern Oil Ltd. in the Driver-Colville area, 100 miles west of Saskatoon.

The discovery was made by its Canada Southern-Dewar No. 6314 driller which gave up natural gas at the rate of 5,000,000 cubic feet a day in drill stem tests of the Viking sand section.

PLAQUE UNVEILED—FRANK (CP)—Three thousand persons stood in a drizzling rain Wednesday as Ralph Moore, Alberta deputy minister of economic affairs, unveiled a plaque commemorating the Frank Slide which claimed at least 66 lives exactly 50 years ago, April 29, 1903.

The plaque is located near the foot of Turtle Mountain, about 88 miles west of Lethbridge. The little Crow's Nest Pass coal mining town was all but destroyed when 70,000,000 tons of rock from the top of Turtle Mountain crashed down the mountainside.

DAMAGES AWARDED—CALGARY (CP)—Damages of $1,325 were awarded John T. Broniff of Brockton, Alta., in a judgment handed down Wednesday by Mr. Justice W. G. Egbert of the Alberta Supreme Court.

The judgment was against W. T. Hill of Lethbridge, who purchased and sold eight head of cattle stolen from Broniff's ranch in July, 1949.

Hill's counsel argued that the cattle were never definitely identified as belonging to Broniff. Hill purchased the animals from a man named Fletcher, who was later convicted of cattle theft.

SASK. RIVER PROJECT—REGINA (CP)—Dr. W. B. Tufts, president of the Saskatchewan Rivers Development Association, says it is hoped problems connected with a start on the South Saskatchewan River project can be settled quickly so Saskatchewan can put to early use its share of the river waters.

In an interview Wednesday night at Outlook, Sask., Dr. Tufts said the SRDA will send a delegation to meet the federal cabinet next week to press for a start on the project.

KILLED IN FALL—WINNIPEG (CP)—A young Winnipeg musician was killed Wednesday when he tumbled from a window in the upper story of his home.

John Lemieux, 23, was found lying on the sidewalk at the rear of his house and died later in St. Boniface Hospital from head injuries.

Mr. Lemieux, a noted pianist, was studying music in New York, and had returned home for his holidays when the accident happened.

CROP PROSPECTS—WINNIPEG (CP)—Low April rainfall on the Prairies has increased the odds against an average grain crop this year.

Major H. G. L. Strange, veteran crop expert of the Searle Grain Company Ltd., said Wednesday precipitation figures showed rainfall considerably below normal for April over most of the Prairies.

"The chances are for a less-than-average yield per acre," said Maj. Strange. "But the picture can change very quickly with a few good rains. There is nothing to be alarmed about in the below-average April figures."

An average wheat yield is 16.5 bushels an acre. Last year it was 26.3.

Britons Upset When Historical Burial Mound Levelled by Farmer

MARLBOROUGH, England (Reuters). — The government Wednesday sent an expert here to investigate the disappearance of a grave 4,000 years old, 60 feet long, 20 feet wide and four feet high.

Local historians blame administrative red tape and bungling for "this wicked thing." British newspapers, always sensitive about historical treasures, have given the incident wide publicity.

The grave was a "long barrow." Bronze Age burial mound invaluable as a source of information on early Britons.

Its disappearance was reported last Sunday, when two local historians took a party of tourists to view it.

Where the barrow had stood, they found the land neatly levelled by a bulldozer.

PLEADS IGNORANCE

Farmer J. E. King confessed Tuesday to the desecration, but pleaded ignorance.

King said he had cleared the area last summer, in preparation for growing grain. He said all he knew was that it had been used as a cattle pen, and had become overgrown with bushes and infested with rabbits.

Horse trainer George Todd, owner of the land, said he knew nothing of the barrow, either.

Nor, apparently, had the Wiltshire agricultural executive committee, which had surveyed the land and was considering giving King a government grant for bringing it back under the plow.

Museum officials said the area had been scheduled for preservation as a national monument. As such, there would be a penalty for anyone knowingly damaging it.

L. V. Grinsell, curator of antiquities at Bristol Museum, who discovered the loss, said the long barrow had been almost completely destroyed. All that was left, he said, was the stone burial chamber itself, below ground.

The ministry of works, responsible for national monuments, when told of the damage said: "We take a most serious view. These barrows are the earliest remnants of our civilization and there are only a few of them."

The ministry expert will try to find out why Todd knew nothing about the barrow. Landowners are usually given detailed maps showing the position of such curiosities on their property.

PLACE FOR A REST

Mill Bay was always a place for a rest when motoring over the old Malahat Drive. The Rotary Club even built a water trough there where horses could be refreshed. It was called Mill Bay because the Mill Stream, flowing from Shawnigan Lake, empties into the Saanich Inlet at this point.

Tromboneers to Usher in Concert

Fanfare from a quartet of trombones will open the Salvation Army annual concert in the Citadel, Pandora Avenue, Saturday evening at 8. Major Larsen of Portland, Ore., will be in the chair and will be in charge of Sunday services. Songster Mary Martin of Vancouver will be the vocal soloist. The trombone quartet, above; Jack Dick, Frank Cracknell, Clarence Rowles and George Gray, will also play the selection, "Happy Comrades," with the band. Admission is free.

MUSIC FESTIVAL SCHOLARSHIPS

Portland Pianist Receives High Praise for Work in Open Class

BY AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

Presentation of the Victoria Musical Art Society's $100 scholarship Wednesday night, to Tana Bowden of Portland, followed her consistent winning in several pianoforte classes in the Victoria Musical Festival.

Specifically, the scholarship was won by Miss Bowden for her brilliant performance of the Greig Concerto in A minor in open. concerto class Tuesday night. The class was uncontested but the Portland pianist won high commendation from adjudicator Lorne Watson, and a marking of 90.

Three Victoria Musical Festival Association scholarships were presented by speech arts and adjudicator, Mrs. Ethel Ferguson, to Norman Wilkinson, Marjorie Hilton and Anthony Churchill for their fine work in this category.

Mrs. Wilfred Ort presented two scholarships from the Victoria School of Expression, to Patricia Cann and Wayne Rowley. These scholarships are for six months' group tuition in each case.

YWCA Glee Club competing with First United Church Choir, took first place by one mark, gaining 172 to First United's 171. Adjudicator Filmer Hubble expressed great pleasure in the singing of both choirs.

Katherine Fisher, Hillsboro, Ore., won the finals of the Junior piano classes, competing against Nancy Sievers, Hillsboro's Darryl Meyer, Hillsboro, and Anne Martin.

In the Concerto class, under 19 years, Lorraine Brand, only entrant, won a very favorable adjudication and a mark of 84. Other features of the evening program were a solo by soprano Grade A winner, Clemency Perrins, and Shamrock Adult Speech Choir in an uncontested class, who were given high marks of 89.

Piano classes of the Greater Victoria Music Festival were held yesterday in St. John's Memorial Hall.

In Class 78, Anne Martin was declared winner with Margaret Richmond second; Darryl Meyer, Dorcas L. Whittaker and Judith Andrews, third.

Winner of Class 73 was Nancy Sievers, Deanna Mayburn Dean, second, and Alan Gordon Radcliff third.

In Class 76, Darryl Mercer was first with Jean Bartholemew and Margaret Richmond tied for second place and Marian Petter third.

Class 75 was won by Anne Martin with Ardella Bradley second and Judith Andrews, third.

Diane De Mott was first in Class 116 with Edna Le Matquand, second, and Joanne Dawson and Lorna Stuart tied for third place.

In Class 117, Tana Bowden was judged winner with Lorraine Brand, second and Verilyn Mackie, third.

At the speech arts, held in Metropolitan United Church schoolroom, Mrs. Ethel Ferguson was the adjudicator.

Class winners were: Class 192—Wayne Rowley, Michael Soltice and David McDonald.

Class 202—Norma Dickinson and Beverley McLaughlin.

Class 207—Norma Dickinson, Jeanie Belcher and Dona Carr; Class 210—St. Ann's Speech Choir and St. Louis College Shamrock Speech Choir.

Class 197—Grace Horgan and Dorothy Edney.

Class 204—Florence Muir and Grace Horgan.

Class 209—Grace Horgan and Dorothy Edney.

Class 206—Dorothy Edney, Norma Smith and Irene Warren.

At the morning and afternoon sessions of the festival, high school and adult choirs competed.

Winners were: Class 69 — Victoria High School and Mt. Douglas High School.

Class 66 — Victoria High School Girls' Chorus and Mount View High School.

Class 64—Mount View High School Senior Glee Club and Royal Oak High School Glee Club.

Class 23—William M. Gaetz.

Class 30—Rosa Cooper and Joy Stanford.

Class 17—Rosa Cooper and Joy Stanford.

Class 12—Allan Husband and Charles Irving.

Class 26—William M. Gaetz.

Beverley Husband and Elinor G. Cox.

Leave Given To Visit Dying Town

PARIS (AP)—An American airman has started home by air to leave to visit his dying home town.

Airman Harold Ripley is bound for Kernville, Calif., the town doomed to a watery grave behind the new Isabella dam. The dam is part of a flood control and irrigation project in the Sierra Nevada mountains.

Ripley's father recently wrote him: "Most of your old home town is gone now. We wish very much that you could see it again before it is covered by a lake."

Young Ripley thought his chances of getting "compassionate leave" to visit a dying town were slim. But he was granted an ordinary leave with the right to hop military air transport planes for the long trip home.

20 MONTHS WITHOUT PAY JUSTIFIED AWL

FORT ORD, Cal. (AP)—A court-martial review board has agreed with Pte. Earl Jones, 33, that 20 months without pay is enough to make a man go AWL.

A Fort Ord spokesman said Tuesday that a dishonorable discharge imposed on Jones last month has been rescinded and his sentence of six months in prison is being suspended.

Jones, a veteran of years of service, went AWL from Fort Bliss, Tex., last June. He said he hadn't been paid for 20 months because of a mixup in records and was having a hard time supporting his wife and child.

Depression Talk Termed 'Malicious Propaganda'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Laurence F. Lee, new chairman of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, today dismissed talk of forthcoming business depression as "malicious propaganda."

He told a reporter there is "absolutely no reason why peace in Korea should bring on anything approaching a depression."

If peace comes, he said, the government's defense spending will be cut down, and taxes can

COMMENTS:

- CLUES ACROSS:
 2. NAMES is best. A team would have to be named but whether or not they had NAMES would depend on the kind of horses.
 8. TASTY is best. You may well want a HASTY meal to be over quickly.
 11. IDIOMS is best. By their very nature IDIOMS are difficult to teach. IDIOMS can be of course.
 17. PETROL is best. The clue says "in charge"; that favors PETROL. For PATROL you would probably say "in command" if being a military term.
 22. CHAIR is best. A stout CHAIR, if used for very heavy work, might quite easily break. With a stout CHAIR, the most you are likely to do is sit on it, and it will not break very easily.
 28. AGE is best. If it were AGE you would hardly say "it" plays for there are four ages and all are important.
 36. DECKS is best. ALL NECKS are narrow compared to the remainder of the vessel or they would not be NECKS. Therefore "certain" does not apply, but it does apply to DECKS.
CLUES DOWN:
 1. LAND is best. Extra LAND could certainly be useful, but an extra HAND only if more help is needed.
 6. MUTTER is best. Mutter means to speak in a barely audible manner. This has a very strong link with "need to listen carefully." People who MUTTER are usually very good at making themselves understood.
 7. MAID is best. A maid can certainly irritate a woman. It is not the MAID itself, but the slowness of the service, which can do so.
 15. SPICE is best. Mother MUST have SPICE when making cakes and lack of it will inevitably hamper her, or even stop her altogether. Lack of SPICE MAY hamper her, if the recipe happens to call for it.
 18. FOX is best. A silver FOX is, in relation to others, comparatively valuable. In relation to a GOLD BOX, for example, a silver one is less valuable.
 19. TRIES is best. If a girl CRIES for something that is just one of the ways she TRIES for it.

Richardson Lions President, Mooney New Tail Twister

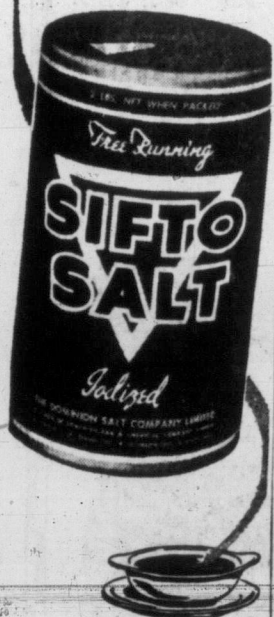

New president of the Victoria Lions Club is Fred Richardson. Although the annual election of officers is slated for May 15, most offices have already been filled by acclamation, according to secretary Art Cann. Glyn Jones was elected first vice-president; Don R. Iome, second vice-president; Art Cann, secretary; Nelson Foster, treasurer; M. Stewart, Lion Tamer, and Millard Mooney, Tail Twister.

Still to be named are four directors for a two-year term and one for one year. Nominees are Walter Cullimore, Ernest Hackett, Jack Horne, Sam Taylor, Leo Evenden, Jack Halton, Harry Paulin and Bert Young.

Rabid Fox Infects Fort Vermilion Cow

EDMONTON (CP) — A cow was infected with rabies two weeks after a rabid fox was found at a farm in the Fort Vermilion district, the federal health of animals division reported Wednesday. Presence of rabies in the cow was confirmed in tests at the federal veterinary research laboratory at Lethbridge. Fort Vermilion is 375 miles north-west of Edmonton.

Nursing Home Grant Delay Irks Alderman

City Funds Ready But Government
Must Approve; Plebiscite Possible

Plans for the new $450,000, 104-bed Victoria Nursing Home on Gorge Road were approved by the city's welfare committee Wednesday.

The committee will recommend to the council introduction of a by-law to authorize turning over $150,000 as the city's share of the project. The money was earmarked for the nursing home by the 1952 council.

A delay of a month is expected, however, owing to the fact that the city must get approval from the provincial government to turn the $150,000 over to the Nursing Home Society for the project.

Still further delays may be encountered. City Solicitor Arthur Patton said the city may have to obtain assent of the ratepayers by public plebiscite to turn the funds over. He is studying the matter.

Ald. Margaret Christie, chairman, protested the delays. She said the project has been under discussion for three years and there was ample time before to bring up the various problems now being raised. The Nursing Home Society is anxious to start work in the fine weather.

"I think it is cruel," said Ald. Christie. "They have had three years to straighten these things out. They didn't need to wait until we were ready to call for tenders."

The committee asked for a special City Council meeting Monday to discuss the matter.

Mayor Claude Harrison meanwhile, expressed doubt about the new home saying he hoped the city was not "rushing into something without proper consideration."

He wondered why there were 24 vacant beds at a private nursing home at Colwood operated by the Sisters of the Love of Jesus.

"They can take 24 patients right now at $15 a month less for each one than it is costing us in our present home," he said. "In addition the sister superior told me she might soon build additional accommodation for 200 persons."

The presentation will be made at the association's 12th annual banquet in Hotel Vancouver, when a total of 28 B.C. telephone pioneers will receive life memberships.

Four Victorians Named For Pioneers' Honors

Telephone Pioneers of America will honor five Vancouver Island residents with life memberships at a ceremony in Vancouver Saturday.

A senior police official said five persons arrested during the last five days on suspicion of spying belonged to the three groups working independently of each other.

These groups had nothing to do with the group of more than 30 alleged Soviet spies arrested here and in West Germany earlier this month, he said.

He warned that Canada should "keep its military guard up" and watch the apparently peaceful gestures of the Communists with a wary eye.

Canadian, Briton Plan Survival Test in Far North

BY VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—A British army ski expert and a Canadian explorer next week will head for one of the most remote islands in the Arctic—Banks Island, north of Tuktoyaktuk on the northernmost fringe of North America. They will meet the problems of survival for the next six months and report their experiences.

T. H. Manning of the Canadian Defense Research Board, who resides in Ottawa and Capt. I. M. Sparrow of the Royal Engineers, will fly from Ottawa to Edmonton. Then they will proceed north by plane to the desolate island where they will spend about five months in exploration work for the defense research board. Details of their mission are governed by security regulations, but it is known the island—measures 200 miles by 150 miles—lies astride what may be any northern invasion route to North America.

The two men will cross the island by foot and expect to make a trip by canoe around the shoreline. The canoe was left on the island last fall by Mr. Manning on a previous visit. They expect to find it where he left it, unless a prowling bear has put a paw through the craft or ripped it to pieces. No humans live on the island.

Mr. Manning told the Victoria Daily Times that he had lashed the canoe to the ground and he thinks that it will still be there. "It's going to make things difficult," he added.

This will be Capt. Sparrow's first visit to Banks Island but he is no novice at the science of endurance or survival in the north. He is one of the top experts in the British army on skis and won the Norwegian army ski school's medal for endurance. He is one of three British army experts able to pass through the Norwegian school and receive the medal.

Chamber Would Better Trade Relations

OTTAWA (BUP).—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today proposed formation of a government trade committee to promote the country's international trade relations. The chamber recommended a submission to the Senate committee on trade relations that the committee be composed of representatives of government, business and possibly other groups.

One of the greatest problems for the pair will be taking along enough food to see them through the long months ahead. They will do all their own cooking and will not have any Indian or Eskimo guides with them to help in the grim battle of existence. The problems of survival will have to be met and overcome by the two white men on their own.

On their return to Ottawa in the fall they will write detailed reports about their exploration work to the Defense Research Board, copies of which will be made available to the British government through Capt. Sparrow. The contents of the reports will remain secret.

The island which is to be their home is set in the bleak wastes of the Arctic Ocean, south of the permanent polar ice cap of the Beaufort Sea. Both men are looking forward with eager anticipation to their summer spent in the far north. RCAF station at the Coronation.

$510,000 for Island Harbors, Waterways

Federal government plans to spend $510,000 on river and harbor maintenance and development on Vancouver Island, according to supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons.

No expenditures are planned for Victoria. Only estimate tabled for public buildings was $15,000 for additions and alterations to the Unemployment Insurance Commission building in Duncan.

Largest item is $105,000 for wharf replacement at Sturdies Bay, Galiano Island.

Others are: Courtenay River, channel maintenance, $10,000; Crofton, wharf improvements, $65,000; Fanny Bay, breakwaters and floats, $20,000; Ladysmith, toward fishing harbor, $75,000; Port Alberni, assembly wharf extensions, $80,000; Qualicum Beach-French Creek, improvements, $35,000; Sidney, repairs to wharf and breakwater and improvements (to complete) revote, $35,000; Vesuvius Bay, wharf improvements, $75,000.

Rain Hits PCL; Beard Seeks Mark

Seattle's Rainiers have forged into a tie with Los Angeles for first place in the Pacific Coast League standings.

San Francisco bowed to Seattle in the only game played Wednesday, 7-4. Rain washed out Oakland at San Diego, Portland at Hollywood and Los Angeles at Sacramento.

Bill Evans, who started for Seattle, walked eight men before skipper Bill Sweeney motioned in Art Del Duca in the seventh inning. Del Duca was greeted by two singles that drove in three runs and tied up the ball game at 4-4, but in the eighth shortstop Dave Melton of the Seals batted Ray Orteig's grounder and Artie Wilson slammed a triple off reliever Bob Muncie.

That was the winning run but the Rainiers added two more insurance tallies in the ninth.

Ted Beard, Hollywood's slugging outfielder who has hit safely in his last 12 appearances at plate and needs only one more to establish a new Pacific Coast League record, probably will sit out tonight's scheduled game against Portland.

McElroy Coming

VANCOUVER (CP).—Walt McElroy, ace golfer, will play in the British Columbia amateur championships at the Royal Colwood golf course, Victoria, May 15-18, it was announced Tuesday.

McElroy was defeated in the final last year on the 36th hole by Bill Mawhinney, who turned pro last fall. Bob Kidd, Jackie Reynolds, Percy Clogg, Walt McAlpine and Hugh Morrison also will take part.

Barrie Flyers Take Two-Game Puck Lead

BRANDON, Man. (BUP).—Confident coach Hap Emms predicted today his Barrie Flyers would win the Memorial Cup in four straight games — and nobody came up with long green that said he'd be wrong.

The Flyers produced another third-period flurry for four goals Wednesday night to defeat the St. Boniface Canadiens 6-3 for the second straight victory in the best-of-seven final.

The third game will be played Friday in Winnipeg.

"We'll take it in four straight now," Emms said. "We're a little too strong for this club to overhaul."

Coach Bryan Hextall of the Canadiens didn't agree or disagree.

"We'll see, about four straight," he said. "It's a seven-game series you know, and only two games have been played."

The Flyers pulled the same tactics they used in the first game when they downed the Habs 6-4 Monday night. The easterners waited out the west

City Bowlers Eye Cars in Fivepin Meet

Local fivepin bowlers making the trip to Vancouver to compete in the Sun's Bowl-a-Car at De Luxe Alleys May 2-9 will be rolling with an eye, and hopes, on three spanking new automobile models.

The three cars are major awards of a $12,000 prize pool, which includes $1,000 for the second-place team.

Teams are comprised of three players—men, women or mixed—and total averages must not exceed 660. Handicaps of 80 per cent of the difference between a team's average and the 660 mark are allotted. The handicaps can be called a "balance" as it gives all bowlers an equal chance in what is probably Canada's largest bowling tournament.

New pins, as all bowlers know, are usually hard to topple and with this in mind new pins are being "broken in" to give trundlers on the early day shifts an equal chance. Many teams will take advantage of the special prizes for top scores on early days. Awards up to $150 may be won by teams posting high scores on the first days of the tourney.

Among local bowlers planning on the trip are Mary Chayko, Eric Chayko, George Urquhart, Ken Smith, Reg Waggoner, John Middlemass, Ken Bendall, Yorn Martin, Fred Henderson, Harry Cool, Phil Smith, Bud Baldwin, Alex Lawrence and Ruth Cosby.

Exhibition Softball

Navy of the Senior A Softball League and the senior B Tillamook will meet at upper Central Park tonight at 6.30 in the second game of a two-game exhibition series.

Tillamook won the first game this week, 8-4, at Colville Road.

Clouts 475-Foot Blow; Giants Having Troubles

NEW YORK (UP).—Maybe they should put a picture of Peter Rabbit on major league baseballs this year, along with the signatures of league presidents Warren C. Giles and William Harridge.

Because the bunny definitely seems to be in the ball with longer and loftier home runs being socked on all fronts. In fact, it is a dull day any more when somebody doesn't get out a tape measure to record the distance of the latest sock.

Wednesday Joe Adcock of the Braves dented one of the National League spheres for a tremendous homerun in the Polo Grounds, the ball clearing the center field bleacher wall, 475 feet from home plate. It was the first time that ever had happened in a major league game there.

Even with the two-run blast that came after an Andy Panko single, lefty Warren Spahn needed an unearned run in the ninth to give the Braves their second straight victory over the Giants, 3-2, as the New Yorkers went down to their eighth defeat in the past 10 games. Adcock was safe on Al Dark's error to start the ninth and stole second, going to third when Sammy Calderone's throw went into center field. He scored on a wild pitch by reliever Hoyt Wilhelm, making his eighth appearance in the last eight games, and being charged with the defeat to boot.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cardinals defeated Curt Simmons and the Phillies, 1-0, in 11 innings and the Pirates snapped a five-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over the Cubs. In Brooklyn, the Dodgers also put on a ninth-inning rally to top the Reds, 6-5, on catcher Hobie Landrith's passed ball.

LADYSMITH MANAGER KILLED

Senior Softball Game Change

The Senior "A" Men's Softball League is scheduled to open with Chinese Students playing host to Pitzer and Nex at Central Park Sunday at 2.30.

Ladysmith were scheduled to appear for the opener but will not make an appearance due to the unfortunate death of team manager Alex Copp.

Copp was killed Wednesday at Comox Logging Camp, near Ladysmith, when the caterpillar tractor he was driving dropped into a 50-foot gully and pinned him underneath.

The Students-P & N contest was originally scheduled for Tuesday but was moved up to Sunday when Ladysmith requested a change in schedule.

AHL All-Star Squad Named

NEW YORK (BUP).—Four members of the Cleveland Barons, headed by right wing Ike Hildebrand, today were named to the American Hockey League all-star team for the 1952-53 season.

Hildebrand was the only unanimous nominee on the first team, which also included goalie Johnny Bowyer, defenseman Tommy Williams and left wing Eddie Olson of the league champions.

Rounding out the all-star sextet were centre Guyle Fielder of the St. Louis Flyers and defenseman Frank Mathers of the Pittsburgh Hornets.

Week of Talk For Premiers

LONDON (Reuters) — The Commonwealth prime ministers coming to London for the Coronation will hold a week-long conference beginning June 4, it was learned Wednesday night.

The conference, which follows the Commonwealth prime ministers' meeting here last fall, will give the leaders a chance to hear how the sterling area stands now in the light of official British missions to Washington and Paris.

Prime Minister Churchill will preside. The agenda is expected to cover a wide field of economic and foreign affairs.

The conference will be held at 10 Downing Street, Churchill's official residence. It will include at least one session on economics, at which the prime ministers will study the improvements in the position of the sterling area since their economic conference here last December.

Services in Memoriam For Henry James Cull

Funeral services were held here today for Henry James Cull, a retired Winnipeg florist, who died in hospital Monday. He was 76.

Born in London, Eng., he carried on as a florist in the Manitoba capital until his retirement in 1947, when he moved to the coast. He is survived by his wife, Bessie, at home, 766 St. Patrick Street, and two sisters in England.

Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated at this afternoon's service. Interment was at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Four-Week Auto Course For Victoria Reservist

By ROY THORSEN

One of the few of Oriental descent in the reserve army, Sgt. J. K. (Gordie) Quan, 1137 Pandora, left this week for Vancouver to attend a four-week held by sergeants in the permanent army.

New accounting NCO for regimental funds, canteen and mess accounts of the 40th is Sgt. S. D. C. Clark, 1726 Kings. He was with the pay corps in the Second World War.

Combined range practice and rifle shooting competitions will be held by the reemies, May 10 and 17, at Heals Range. It is a part of the 1953 training scheme of the 40th. Highest scorers will be rewarded with prizes.

course with the active force at 214 Base Workshop, RCEME.

The 27-year-old part-time soldier, who is of Chinese extraction, is a member of the local 40th Technical Squadron, RCEME, of the reserve army.

He will undergo training in repairs and maintenance of the latest types of vehicles being used by the active army; they will be issued to the reserve force in the near future, replacing older types now being used for training purposes.

Successful completion of this course will give Sgt. Quan the same highest trade grouping

U.K. Home Owners Find No Coronation Rental Boom

LONDON (Reuters) — Scores of Londoners who had big plans for renting their homes to Coronation visitors at exorbitant rents have been left holding the bag.

Real estate agents and travel officials say that high-priced houses and apartments are finding no takers. Owners who planned expensive vacations on the proceeds are coming down to earth with a thump.

"They have found that overseas visitors just won't pay the fantastic prices asked," one real estate agent said.

Rents sought for luxury homes in central and fashionable districts have ranged as high as $2,940 a week. Most are well below that, but still steep enough to scare off possible tenants.

FEW NIBBLES

"Many advertised in overseas papers months ago, but very few got replies," said an official of the British Travel and Holidays Association. "The prices asked put people off."

Most of the 200,000 visitors expected for the Coronation will stay in hotels or in apartments rented through the Coronation Accommodation Committee, which insures that prices are reasonable.

Hopes of suburban home owners to cash in on a Coronation boom have also been dashed. One suburban agent said: "There is more of this type of accommodation available than there are people asking for it."

Destroyer Conversion Biggest Job For 3,100 Employees at Dockyard

By MONTE ROBERTS
Times Marine Reporter

HMC Dockyard, the Navy's ship repair depot at Esquimalt, is reaching a new peak of activity this week, with its 3,100 employees busy on jobs ranging from routine overhaul to major repairs and complete conversion.

Biggest job in hand is HMCS Crescent, the ex-RN destroyer being completely converted to an electronic anti-submarine escort, similar to HMCS Algonquin.

Crescent's superstructure has been stripped down to the weather deck, and her hull gutted of everything but engines and boilers. Already the work of rebuilding has commenced, and workmen are reshaping the sheer from the forecastle head.

The Crescent conversion is one of the biggest jobs ever handled by the Canadian Navy, and is estimated to cost about $5,000,000.

When finished, she'll be a sleek, fast ship, outfitted with every modern device to hunt and kill submarines.

Across the refit jetty from Crescent is a humbler ship whose job is no less important. HMCS Cedarwood, operated by the navy as a floating laboratory for the Pacific Naval Laboratory, is receiving much-needed major repairs and extensive alterations in design, at an estimated cost of $130,000.

A great deal of the weathered planking is being torn out of the wooden-hulled ship, to be replaced by sound new timbers. Nearly all the wooden knee joints will also be replaced. Fortunately, Dockyard has a skilled staff of shipwrights wise in the art of wooden construction.

Cedarwood will also have an afterhouse added, to provide additional working space for scientists. All electrical wiring throughout the ship is being replaced.

Also in hand at the refit jetty is annual overhaul of HMCS Cordova, former U.S. minesweeper now attached to HMCS Discovery, the reserve training establishment at Vancouver. Refit of HMCS Antigone, one of the Pacific Command's two frigates, is nearing completion.

Here's an easy way to make a hearty soup. To canned tomato soup add 1/2 cup of cooked large dry lima beans and two slices crisp cooked bacon, crumbled. Serve with a glass of milk and toasted cheese sandwich for a hurry-up lunch.

RHEE CALLED 'DICTATOR,' OLD BARBARIAN

LONDON (Reuters)—The London Daily Mirror today blasted Syngman Rhee as "the man who does not want the war to stop."

"What is to be done about that pig-headed old barbarian, dictator in democrat's clothing, President Syngman Rhee of South Korea?" the mass-circulation paper demanded in an editorial.

"Truce or no truce, he bawls, he is ready to fight on until he rules the whole country."

Reds Charge Church Starting Religious War in East Germany

BERLIN (UP)—East German Communists accused "reactionary Catholic and Evangelical Church leaders" today of attempting to start a religious war in the Soviet zone.

The charge, published by the Red newspaper Neues Deutschland, followed acts of open defiance against the Communist regime by three leading German churchmen—one Catholic and two Protestants.

Mayor Friedrich Ebert, of East Berlin, ordered Roman Catholic officials to vacate a Catholic mission house and a home for the aged in the Soviet sector today or "come in conflict with the laws of the state power."

Catholic Bishop Wilhelm Weskamm, of Berlin, has openly defied the evacuation order and charged in a letter to Ebert that Communist confiscation of church properties was "an open attack on the rights of the church."

In another open gesture of defiance, Evangelical Prior Heinrich Grueber tacked a denunciation of Communism outside his church in the Soviet zone Thursday and predicted that the Communist regime in Germany is doomed to be ousted, as the Nazis were—but quicker.

Prior Grueber, sentenced to a Nazi concentration camp 20 years ago, risked Communist arrest by tacking up the statement—which Protestant churchmen here likened to the historic "35 l's" that Martin Luther posted at Wittenberg Cathedral in 1517.

The titular head of the Ger-

man Evangelical Church, Bishop Otto Debelius of Berlin, said two days ago that the Communists "have begun a new campaign against the church" and urged Protestant youth groups in Communist Germany to wage an underground war for religious freedom.

Dancer Solid Choice For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—There weren't many people left for Native Dancer to convince today and it looked like he would go off a 1 to 2 favorite in Saturday's 79th annual running of the Kentucky Derby.

Actually, the grey-colored streak of Alf Vanderbilt had scared off the owners of all other three-year-old derby eligibles in the land except 10, and at least one of those was likely to concede before the entry box for the derby starters opens at 7 a.m. (CDT) Friday.

That concession depended upon track conditions. If the racing strip is fast, Ace Destroyer, who only likes off-track going, probably will not start. Neither may Social Outcast, the stablemate of Native Dancer.

Thus the probable field for the classic narrowed down to 12, but with only 11 owners represented in all because Vanderbilt races both Native Dancer and Social Outcast.

A brilliant workout yesterday, when Native Dancer, with an exercise boy up, ran a mile in 1:30.35, speeding the last quarter in 23.15, didn't scare off his leading contenders for the rose run.

Eddie Arcaro, the only jockey who has won five derbies, summed it up when he said:

"Take that grey horse out of there and it's a wide open race."

Arcaro is going to ride Correspondent.

"I'm only worried about Native Dancer," he said. "I think Correspondent can handle the others."

The people who bet on races agreed with him. The early line making Native Dancer a 1 to 2 odds on choice had Correspondent at 4 to 1 with Straight Face and Royal Bay Gem the joint third choices at 8 to 1. Back of them, in the long shot brackets, came Dark Star, Ace Destroyer, Invigorator, Social Outcast, Curragh King, Money Broker, Ram O' War and Spy Defense.

CHIEF OF CHIEFS SPEAKS

Indians Have Complaints Yet, But Better Off Now

HAZELTON, B.C. (CP)—The greatest of all British Columbia's Indian chiefs has told his people: "We are on the way back into the sunlight . . . but never forget that you can't trust the white man too far."

Chief Bill Scow, who in full regalia will attend the Coronation of the Great White Mother "as a representative of Canada," says the Indian is better off today than ever before.

The big change came when we got the provincial vote, and I'll never rest until we get the federal vote," said the dignified and impressive president of the Native Brotherhood of B.C.

Chiefs representing 30,000 native folk are in annual pow-wow here, debating such things as fishing, trapping—and wampum. The theme of the talks is that the red man won't be sold short by his white brother.

And a term the red man has learned from the black, Jim Crow, cropped up at the week-long meetings. Delegates applauded loudly Tuesday when Harold Sinclair of Kitwanga, executive of the brotherhood, charged white merchants in the town of Smithers with "living from the profits of their business with Indians but refusing to accept them as social equals." He promised "a fight to the end to erase this Jim Crowism."

Advice to the young men to abstain from alcohol was given in the Tsimshian tongue by 74-year-old Chief Arthur McDames.

"You don't know how to handle it yet," he said. "Today I notice when white men go into beer parlors, they don't come out falling over the ground."

Scorn for white hunters was expressed by Chief Sinclair:

"In the fall we see these great white sportsmen hunters from the United States shoot bull moose and take the horns and leave the meat to rot. I think it's an absolute disgrace."

The Indians are on the war-path against the income tax department, and it appears that a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada will be needed to bury the hatchet.

The department insists that the trappers and fishermen who operate outside their reserves are liable for income tax, but the Indians have promised to fight it out in the highest court of the land.

LIVELY CENTENARIAN

Way Clear for Ex-Nazi Strasser to Return to Germany

PARADISE, N.S. (CP)—Otto Strasser, his way cleared by a court ruling, intends to go back to Germany and resume a political career that was cut short 20 years ago.

Rugged Meadow Lark

CRAIGMYLE, Alta. (CP)—A meadow lark that refused to follow its feathered friends south last autumn has fared well since. The bird has become pretty tame on the farm of George Ralsbecks.

His aim is a new party, the Rally for Germany's Renewal, with which he hopes to fill a "spiritual and economic vacuum" he claims the present government has done nothing to wipe out.

A German administrative court in Cologne Wednesday cleared the last obstacle barring the 55-year-old, former Nazi from returning to his homeland. Over the opposition of the Bonn government, it ordered restoration of the citizenship Strasser lost after his Black Front staged an unsuccessful revolt against Hitler.

The interior ministry in Bonn said an appeal would be launched.

Tin and rubber from Malaya have brought the British more U.S. dollars in the last few years than all of the United Kingdom's direct trade with America.

THEATRE OF FUTURE

"Canada's Theatre of the Future" will be the subject of an address to city Kiwanis Tuesday by Henry Schnitzer of the department of theatre arts, University of California. Guests at the luncheon meeting will be 150 players and technicians who will be in attendance at the Canadian Drama Festival here May 4-9.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Anything can happen in the newspaper business, and frequently does.

Agitated lady telephoned city editor, reported large, ugly, venomous-looking spider lurking in her basement.

Said the spider was at least six inches across, and she was afraid to enter basement.

City editor asked why she didn't phone police. Lady said she had, and they suggested she phone The Times.

City editor agreed you could depend on The Times, said he'd send someone out right away.

Then he called for volunteers to interview the spider. He was greeted by loud silence, there being no spider-loving reporters on the staff.

City editor then secured two volunteers—one reporter, one photographer—by shouting "or else" in loud voice.

"Volunteers" sped to scene, discussing best serum to cure tarantula bites.

Agitated lady greeted them at door, pointed their way to basement, staying well in background.

Newspapermen cautiously descended stairs, and, sure enough, saw fierce looking, huge spider lurking half in, half out, of pocket of lady's smock hung on peg in basement.

Seeing their duty, they did it. Reporter grabbed a broom; photographer set his camera, focused it, got ready for prize-winning action shot.

When they returned to office, city editor complained bitterly because of no picture, no story.

FFP (Punch for Premier) report: The dog Punch attended his first political meeting last night (I'm not going to say which one) and as a result has formulated the strongest plank in his platform.

He has authorized me to promise solemnly he will make no speeches during the whole campaign. In fact, he will not say a single word in public.

No other candidate can make that statement.

A worried constituent has appealed to me for the location of a place called Lineup Twodeep.

Says the signs at Vancouver Island Coach Lines depot read: "This bus for Line Up, 2 Deep."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A two-month license suspension accompanied a $15 fine and $3 costs imposed against Roy A. Allison, Victoria, when he pleaded guilty in RCMP court Tuesday to a charge of speeding.

Stipendiary Magistrate A. J. Thomas was told Allison was paced at speeds up to 75 m.p.h. on Craigflower Road.

Albert Hull, 23 Helmcken, and Oswald Nixon, 1638 Hillside, reported wilful damage was done to their cars parked on city streets late Wednesday night.

In addition to ignition wires being torn loose, contents of the glove compartment of the Nixon car were scattered over the floor. Both drivers told police nothing was taken.

A meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club of Victoria will be held tonight at 6.30 at the Pacific Club.

One of the most colorful units in a giant parade of Shriners through Victoria streets on June 6 will be a 16-horse patrol from the Nile Temple, Seattle.

Parade will be part of the anniversary marking the 50th anniversary of the founding of Gizeh Temple, which will be attended by about 4,000 nobles and their wives from Canada and the United States.

Tories and Socreds will hold election meetings tonight.

PC leader Deane Finlayson, who is a candidate in Oak Bay, will address a public meeting in Haultain Street Parish Hall at 8 p.m.

Esquimalt Socred candidate Herbert Brunt will speak at Sooke Community Hall.

A fine of $30 was imposed against Patrick J. Cornelle, 467 Gorge, when he pleaded guilty in city police court to illegally driving a car while his license was under suspension.

Newcomer here from England, Herbert F. Dranfield, 1911 Stanley, was fined $25 in city police court today for driving a car without being the holder of a valid B.C. driver's license.

He pleaded guilty, but said it was due to the misunderstanding he had that his Ontario license did not expire until April 30. "I'm sorry to have put people to this trouble," Mr. Dranfield said.

In a crash with a trailer-truck when he failed to stop for a flashing red light, Charles H. Marshall, 1216 Carlisle, was fined $80 in city police court today.

He pleaded guilty to charges of careless driving and for driving a car without a current year's driver's license. Crash occurred at Mendez and Superior, March 26, about $500 damage done to his car and $300 to the truck.

Magistrate H. C. Hall also suspended Marshall's license.

Two-year-old Charles Spittle, 351 Ker, was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital by Saanich police today to be treated for a head cut suffered in a fall out of a window. Police said the little boy was watching his sister through an open window and fell out, striking his head on some hard object.

Woman at Wheel When Pedestrian Struck, Pays Fine

Driver of a truck that struck and injured a 63-year-old woman last Dec. 7, Doreen Weismiller, 1727 Bank, was found guilty in city police court today on a charge of careless driving and was fined $50.

Her license was suspended.

Mrs. Ozema McCulloch, 923 Agnes, the victim, required help to get around on crutches when she appeared in court to testify today.

Testimony was that Mrs. McCulloch and her daughter, Doris, were crossing Douglas at Fierald when the mother was struck by a light delivery truck driven by the accused proceeding north on Douglas.

It was a dark, rainy and windy night, according to testimony. Miss Weismiller, when questioned by Prosecutor Alan Bigelow and her counsel, Lloyd G. McKenzie, said the fact there were four other persons in the front seat of the truck did not hamper the driver.

Surgeons Here For Technical Discussions

The sixth annual scientific session of the British Columbia Surgical Society, representing 150 surgeons in this province, opened in Empress Hotel today, with Dr. Angus D. McLachlan, University of Western Ontario, as principal guest speaker.

Nearly all members of the society were present as Dr. W. J. Wride of Victoria, president, opened the technical and scientific discussions.

Papers this morning were read by Dr. E. France Wood, Dr. G. S. Fahri, Dr. Gordon H. Grant, Dr. P. E. Rees-Davies, and a general discussion was led by Dr. McLachlan.

Also scheduled to address the two-day session, which will conclude with the annual dinner Friday evening, are: Dr. Daniel H. Labby, University of Oregon Medical School; Dr. C. E. Battle, Dr. Frank M. Bryant, Dr. Wride, Dr. L. B. Frattin, Dr. A. B. Sinclair, Dr. S. Marinker, Dr. A. H. Meneely, Dr. W. E. M. Mitchell and Dr. S. T. R. Sarjeant.

W. Frost, Dr. Lee Smith and Dr. J. Balfour, Vancouver; Dr. Paul Phillips, Princeton, and Dr. N. H. Jones, Port Alberni.

Big Parade for Products Fair Planned Saturday

A two-band parade, packed with Victoria's prettiest girls and funniest clowns, will be seen in the downtown area Saturday. The clowns will hand out hundreds of balloons to youngsters.

The gay fanfare will herald the opening on Monday of the British Columbia Products Fair.

The Victoria's Girls' Drill Team will march, and riding in six shiny cars will be ten contestants for the Miss British Columbia Products Fair title. Leading them will be last year's queen of the fair, Miss Gayle Webster.

The parade starts at the Causeway, proceeds north on Government to Yates, east on Yates to Blanshard, north on Blanshard to the Arena. The marchers will stop off at 2 p.m. sharp.

Public Not Yet Stripped to Shirts, Incoming Income Tax Mail Reveals

By GORDON FORBES

Officials of the local income tax office in the Belmont Building are puzzled.

Here it is the last day for filing 1952 income tax returns and they haven't received a shirt in the mail yet.

Why should they get a shirt in the mail?

It appears that every year about this time some wage sends one along with an accompanying letter which goes something like this:

"Last year you took all my money through income tax. This year you might as well have my shirt too."

Some years the income tax office gets several shirts.

This year, either the supply of shirts is short or there is more money around with which to pay taxes.

There is still time, however. Deadline for payment of 1952 income taxes is midnight tonight. The shirt may come yet.

By the way, the Belmont Building tax collection office closes at 5 p.m. But if forms and payments are in the mail before midnight tonight, the 5 per cent penalty will not be imposed.

The Victoria office, which is headquarters for all Vancouver Island and some of the Gulf Islands, has 80,000 taxpayers under its jurisdiction.

These taxpayers will contribute roughly $20,000,000 to federal government coffers.

While the 75 workers who are directly concerned with handling the 1952 returns are pushing through this super-busy period, they are compiling as they go along what they call "income tax gems."

Some are local, and others have been collected from income tax offices all over the world.

The "gems" prove conclusively that the inquiring public can inadvertently come up with the strangest comments.

For example, there is the man who wrote to income tax officials to explain his tardiness in paying. Said he:

"I'm sorry I have not paid, but I have had all my teeth out and a gas stove put in."

And there was the man who wrote to the local office with another excuse for not paying his taxes promptly.

"... and I just got out of hospital about a month and a half ago. I spent three months in hospital with romantic fever and rheumatism."

A lady wrote: "Please send me a claim form, as I have had a baby. I had one before, but it got all dirty and I burnt it."

From a woman taxpayer:

"Please send me a pink slip as I have just got married and will need a change."

Another: "I am writing this note to inform you that I was married on March 7. I am sorry that I have been so long in doing so, but I didn't think it was necessary."

From a man: "I had a child born to me on November 29. Will you please explain?"

A man sent back his annual return form with this comment: "I am a married man with seven children. I get one of these every year."

Child Who Came With Royal Engineers, Mary Moresby Saw B.C. Grow From 1859

Ninety-five-year-old Mrs. Mary Ann Moresby, mother of W. C. Moresby, QC, died Wednesday night at Mount St. Mary.

A resident of Victoria since 1898, Mrs. Moresby was one of the links with the famous trouphouse Thames City, which brought Royal Engineers to this country upon the formation of the Crown colony of British Columbia.

Mrs. Moresby was born in England, daughter of Sapper and Mrs. Williams Edwards, who joined the Royal Engineer Corps that left England in 1858 for this country. They landed at Esquimalt, April 12, 1859.

That was the year that New Westminster (then called Queensborough) was to take form under the guidance of Arnold R. C. Moody, RE, as the capital of the newly-created Crown colony of B.C.

From that day until the present, Mrs. Moresby has witnessed the march of western history.

REARED IN B.C.

When the Engineer Corps was disbanded, her parents stayed in B.C. She grew up in the Royal City, being educated in select private schools for young ladies.

Possessed of a fine voice and a love for music, she cultivated these gifts and became known for her generosity in singing at concerts and affairs for the public welfare in New Westminster.

In 1875 she married William Moresby, a member of a distinguished family which is remembered in the geographic names on the coast. His father was a member of the legal profession and arrived with his family from Hong Kong.

Young William Moresby tried his hand at mining in the Cariboo for a short time and then joined the Colonial Police of B.C. He rose to be one of the outstanding members of that famous body.

WIDOWED IN 1894

He later became governor of the colonial jail and subsequently was chosen by Ottawa to be warden of the B.C. penitentiary, an office he held at the time of his death in 1896.

Two years later, Mrs. Moresby accompanied her son William Charles to Victoria where he opened a law office. She had resided here ever since.

In addition to W. C. Moresby, QC, who is the senior member of the Benchers' Society, Mrs. Moresby is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Noel M. Farris, and Mrs. Violet M. Ross, both of Seattle; six grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from Haywards at 4.15 p.m. Saturday. Cremation will be at Royal Oak.

In spite of poor health, he returned to China in 1944, only to his cousin, Mrs. C. G. Beeching, 444 Transit. It came by way of a personal cable from the British colonial outpost.

During his 29 years as a Far East missionary, Ottawa-born Bishop O'Gara has endured bombings, faced a firing squad, lived through six months of indignity in a Japanese prison camp and finally has survived similar treatment at the hands of the Chinese Communists.

But his last experience has been his most desperate trial. Mrs. Beeching said today that since his disappearance two years ago, reports have trickled out of China that the bishop was shackled hand and foot by the Reds.

His first mission was devastated by Chinese Communists in 1927 when their banditry was still confined to small-scale guerrilla operations. He was unharmed, lived to earn the name of "the stretcher-bearing bishop" in the Sino-Japanese War. In 1941 when he was captured at the fall of Hong Kong he received a last-minute reprieve from a Japanese execution party, lost 50 pounds during six months in prison.

In spite of poor health, he returned to China in 1944, only to

Several BLOWS

"As we were proceeding toward the police station Carson took a swing at me and Fritzler hit me several times," the officer said. He said he suffered a sore nose in the scuffle.

Fritzler, dressed in civilian clothes, denied he had hit Constable Wainwright at all. "I grabbed both of them to pull them apart," he said.

"We were not trying to steal the car the officer found us in. We just got inside the Buick to admire the upholstery and the smart dashboard," he said.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Is there any difference between salt and fresh water in quenching a fire?—P.G.K.

A. According to city fire department officials, no.

Q. After retirement from one of the armed forces is a commissioned officer permitted to use the title of his former rank?—D.S.D.

A. By custom, yes. Officers of the permanent forces, moreover, are often recalled to service on special occasions.

Q. What is an Elsteddod?—J.P.

A. An annual congress of Welsh poets, composers and singers. Its purpose is to encourage and preserve Welsh music and literature.

Handy New Lawn Sprinkler
Easy to Operate and Store

By PENNY SAVER

It's so much fun to be able to tell you about something startling and ultra clever in the gadgets line! . . . A new type hose sprinkler that costs only $2.98 for a 20-foot length. This sprinkler is made of Vinylite plastic and is a flat double tube with holes staggered to give even coverage without leaving any dry or soggy areas on the lawn. It is adjustable in more ways than one could imagine—length, direction, and one-sided-sprinkling can be arranged with no fuss at all. . . . It will keep upright around curving flower beds . . . uphill or down. Imagine, too, it weighs less than one pound and rolls up for storing.

If, like so many parents, you are concerned about how to train your children to spend wisely and to save money, you'll welcome "Money Management, Children's Spending," an informative 36-page booklet written especially for parents. Prepared with the help of educators and economists, and published by a finance corporation, it discusses frankly the problems encountered in instilling a sense of money responsibility in children and teaching them the art of successful money management. I will be pleased to tell you how you can send for this booklet which costs ten cents.

Hot rolls keep that way and look attractive when served in a wicker bun basket lined with a colorful cosy warmer of linen or cotton. These liners are practical, for they open flat (sides snap together to hold rolls) for laundering, but the nicest thing about them is that they come in so many colours to match any table decor and can be had to go with gay luncheon sets which are sold in the same shop. Complete they cost $2.95.

There is something so very relaxing about a small piece of petting point which can be worked in odd moments when one has a chance to sit down to rest and listen to the radio, or while waiting for the dinner to finish cooking. Here are some ash tray kits which will turn a pleasant hobby into an attractive gift. Each kit costs 45 cents and includes a small glass ash tray, the design and directions for making a floral or initialled decoration in petting point to place under the glass, and a piece of felt for the protective base.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Can Transplant Fat
From Buttocks to Breast

Building up the small bust is a new procedure in cosmetic plastic surgery. Only recently has it achieved success.

I could not help laughing when I learned where they get the fat and dermis (lower layer of skin) with which to build up the bust. They take it from the buttocks.

That will suit most women perfectly. I am always receiving letters from readers requesting exercises which "will take two inches off of the hips and add two inches to the bust."

This is exactly what happens in this operation. Fat and dermis are removed from the buttocks and inserted into a pocket which has been made in the breast. These transplants lose some of their body, but not more than 20 per cent. Plastic surgeons are apt to refuse one out of two women who request a breast operation because they do not feel that the need is great enough.

Mentoplasty is a very simple operation which would mean a lot to a lot of people. It is the operation for correcting a protruding chin. The surgeon makes a small incision and chisels off excess bone. Only a small amount is removed but it makes a big difference, not only in the profile but in chin contour. If you have a receding chin, bone can be added for correction.

These operations are simple only if the teeth are in alignment. Otherwise the jawbone may have to be saved through and it may be necessary to remove teeth or wire some in place.

Lipectomy is the operation for removing excess fat. Plastic surgeons turn down nine out of 10 women who request this operation because obesity is a generalized condition and calorie counting rather than the knife should be employed.

However, there are some conditions correlated with extreme overweight which are acutely uncomfortable. Some women have an apron of fat which hangs from the abdomen or the arms. The skin may become red and tender.

The conscientious plastic surgeon requests consultation with a specialist in internal medicine before he will perform this operation. There is some danger of complications since the incision is very large. Sometimes a gynecologist or a general surgeon performs this operation in correlation with another abdominal operation.

This series reflects the consensus of opinion of many of the plastic surgeons. If you are considering plastic surgery it is most essential that you select a highly competent surgeon.

Missionaries to Speak

Rev. Archie Gordon and Mrs. Gordon, missionaries on furlough from Telegu Field, India, will be guest speakers at meeting at First Baptist Church on Friday evening at 8. They will show pictures in connection with their address on the subject of their work in India, where they have served for 40 years with the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board. The meeting is being sponsored by Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church, Douglas Street Baptist Church, and Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Toronto Artist
Three-Fold Winner

TORONTO (CP)—A 25-year-old Toronto typist has established three records in the oldest society of painters and sculptors in Canada.

Audrey Garwood won the J. W. L. Forster award, worth $100, for the "best subject picture" in the 81st annual exhibition of the Ontario Society of Artists.

She is the first woman, the youngest person and the first non-member of the society to win the award, presented annually since 1941.

Working as a stenographer during the day, she paints in the evenings and on week-ends. She managed to attend the Ontario College of Art with the aid of scholarships and by working at part-time jobs.

Her prize-winning painting, titled "Voyage," depicts stormy passengers on the deck of a trans-Atlantic steamship.

Lodge Meeting—A business meeting of Princess Lodge 238, Order of the Daughters of St. George, was held in the K. of P. Hall. Mrs. M. Raines, district deputy, was welcomed, and Mesdames E. Pegg and M. Gillard were initiated into the lodge. Plans were made for a tea on June 1, in the Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Store, in aid of the drill team.

Coronation Tea—Mrs. Edward Adams presided at meeting of Salt Spring Island Woman's Auxiliary, when Mrs. G. H. Holmes told of plans for a Coronation tea at which Mesdames J. A. Bigham, J. Byron, W. Hele and C. W. Leggett will assist. It was reported that $42 was realized from the wayside sale at which Mrs. F. H. Baker was tea convener, assisted by Mesdames W. Sinclair, G. W. Taylor and H. C. Carter. Stalls were convenered by Mrs. J. C. Kingsbury, needlework; Mesdames E. Adams and C. W. Leggett, home cooking; J. Byron, plants; and Mrs. H. A. Robinson, miscellaneous.

TODAY'S RECIPE

RAISIN RHUBARB RELISH

One cup brown sugar (packed), 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup water, 1/2 teaspoon whole allspice, 1/2 teaspoon whole cloves, 1 (4-inch) stick cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon mustard seed, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 1 cup finely cut onion, 1 1/2 cups sliced rhubarb, 1 cup seedless raisins.

Combine sugar, vinegar, water and spices, and boil about 2 minutes. Add onion and rhubarb, and cook 30 minutes longer. Rinse and drain raisins, add to hot mixture and cook 10 minutes. Serve when cold, or can for future use. Makes about 2 pints.

AS WE LIVE

Is a Heart Invalid
A Bad Marriage Risk?

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a man has a physical handicap is it fair to ask a young woman to share his life with him? And is the young woman being fair to herself or the man when she consents? Here is a case in point:

Hurlock

(Q)—"I have a steady boy friend and am very much in love. We plan to marry a year from this June. My problem is this. My boy friend has a bad heart, bad enough to have him rejected from every branch of the service. Would I be taking too big a risk by marrying him? If it is, I would have later on. I don't want to be known as a girl who strings a fellow along. He has said it was all right for me to give him up if I felt we shouldn't marry. What shall I do?"

A bad heart can keep a man from doing certain types of work, such as military life demands. But there are many types of civilian job which he could hold without injuring himself. If the doctor thinks your friend has a reasonably good chance of living a normal life as a civilian he will tell you so. If, on the other hand, the type of heart condition he has will grow worse with advancing age and may make him a semi-invalid, it would be a great gamble for you to consider marriage.

No matter how much you love him and want to share his life, you must be practical. Should he, later on, become a semi-invalid and should you have children, how could you take care of him and them, and go out to earn a living?

Furthermore the normal demands of marriage on a man may prove to be a great strain on your friend's heart. They might readily make him an invalid while, if he remained single, he would suffer none of these strains and would grow no worse.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Petits fours are easy and inexpensive to make at home with cake mix. Bake the batter in a 9 x 13-inch pan and cut into diamond-shaped pieces. Spread the tops and sides with this apricot glaze before frosting. Cover 1/2 pound dried apricots with water and boil in 15 minutes. Drain and force apricots through a sieve. Measure, add an equal amount of sugar and boil slowly 5 minutes.

Instant Coffee? You're kidding!

"I've tasted lots of instant coffee before, but this tastes just like you've brewed it yourself!"

Folks'll be surprised, and no wonder, because . . . to make Borden's Instant Coffee, we brew coffee, just the way you do at home. When the flavor's perfect, we whisk away the water by a magic vacuum process. Result: pure coffee crystals, 100% pure . . . no dextrose fillers. You just add back boiling water to recapture that grand coffee flavor we brewed!

No grounds! No pot to wash! A small jar gives as many cups as a pound of ground coffee, saves you about 40c. The large 5 oz. jar saves you even more!

They'll think it's fresh from the coffee pot—and you SAVE UP TO 40¢ a pound!

Pre-Ball Parties

Prior to the graduation ball at Royal Roads this evening, Miss Belinda McConnell, will be hostess at a small dinner party at the Rockland Avenue home of her parents. Her guests will be Cadet Wing Commander James R. Standen, Mimico, Ont.; Miss Shirley Nutter and Cadet Ervin E. Sande, Jasper, Alta.

Following the dinner the foursome will go on to the Bowker Avenue home of Miss Kathleen Collis, who is entertaining a group of graduating cadets and their partners before the ball.

In the group will be Misses Beverley Van Sickle, St. Catharines, Ont.; May Ingalls, Maureen Jenkins, Anne Buckle, Lillian L. Blane, Sally Laundry, Tannis Carlson, Gwen Mason, June Graham, Florence Tickle, Barbara Rose and Janet Schimke, Seattle; Cadets Gerald Van Sickle, John Swayne, William Johnston, Doug Hardwick, James Buchan, Hugh Garrard, James Plummer, Geoffrey Upton, John Law, Scott, Price, Chris Smith, Thomas Noon and John Falkins.

Miss Clare Collison is having a small supper party at the Newport Avenue home of her parents. Her guests will be Misses Marie Clark, Donna Kerr, Cadets Stan Wallace, Archie Beare and Ross Cunningham.

Cadet Ian Kingham has planned a supper party at the home of his parents on Upper Terrace Road, the Uplands. Among his guests will be his sister, Miss Sheila Kingham, Miss Gillian Blair, Vancouver; Misses Josephine Ellis, Betty McNiven, Donna Sparks, Donna Gowan and Della Quainton, Cadets Ted White, Len Creelman, John Wigmore, Joe Haslett, Kenneth Bicum and Jeremy Brown.

Mrs. T. D. K. Rooney of Kingston, Ont., has arrived in the city to attend the graduation of her son, Mr. Bob Wark, and is a guest at the Empress Hotel. Mrs. Rooney will entertain at dinner tonight at the hotel prior to the ball, when her guests will be Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wyatt, Miss Sonya Wyatt and Mr. Wark.

Hosts to a party of 16 will be Miss Jill Ulrich and Cadet David Younger. They will entertain at the home of Miss Ulrich's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Ulrich, 2757 Dufferin Road.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Collison entertained at a family party at their home, 90 King George Terrace, last evening in honor of their nephew, Cadet John W. Coburn, who graduates today from Royal Roads. Guests included Mrs. Collison's brother, Dr. W. Coburn; Mrs. Coburn and their sons Robin and David, who are in town from Vancouver to be present at the graduation ceremonies at which their son and brother will receive the bronze medal given by the Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec for the English-speaking cadet showing most progress in French.

Buffet Supper Hostess

A Saturday evening hostess will be Mrs. D. A. Hewitt, who will entertain wives of some of the members of Victoria Medical Association at a buffet supper at her home, 3550 Beach Drive. The Medical Association will be holding its annual memorial oration banquet at the Pacific Club the same evening.

Christening at Cathedral

Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a recent christening ceremony when Canon A. E. Greenhalgh conferred the names Mason Alexander on the two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne M. Sands, 1336 Richardson Street. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Foxgord, Victoria, and Mr. Daryl Anderson, Vancouver.

The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Molloy, 1023 Belmont Avenue, and paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Sands, 2282 Oak Bay Avenue. Following the ceremony, immediate families were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Sands.

Parties Arranged for Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Todd have issued invitations to two early-evening cocktail parties in their Newport Avenue home this week-end. They will entertain on Friday and again on Saturday evening.

Organizing Festival Week

The tremendous amount of organization necessary for the Dominion Drama Festival, which opens in Victoria on Monday, has kept the local committee, under chairman Judge J. B. Clearhue, on very nearly a 24-hour schedule.

Lieut.-Col. Victor W. Mills is the hard-worked secretary and honorary treasurer, Mr. Dudley S. Markham, who co-operates closely with finance chairman Mr. Jack Barraclough.

Tickets are the charge of Mrs. D. Mellander and Mrs. M. Roxborough; Mr. Andrew Weir, billing; Mr. James McArthur, registration; Mr. Harry Bleasdale, advertising; Mr. Ken McAllister, programs; Sir Robert Holland, reception; Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Mrs. Gordon Wismer, social; Mr. Conway Parrott, transportation; Lieut.-Col. T. C. Evans, house manager; Mr. Arthur H. Kerr, stage manager; Mr. H. Roy Goldfinch, lighting; Mr. H. M. Bigwood, dressing rooms; Mrs. Dorothy Whyte and Mrs. Dolly Jones, costumes; Capt. C. F. Gibson and Miss C. Ellis, theatre conference; Mr. H. E. Stubbings, co-ordinator.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Van Sickle have come from St. Catharines, Ont., to see their son, Gerald, graduate in ceremonies at Royal Roads this afternoon. Their daughter, Miss Beverley, accompanies them. They are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Collis, Bowker Avenue.

Mrs. M. Atherton was convener for the social and dance given by members of the staff of Olde England Inn in the Shakespeare Room of the Inn. Supper was served buffet style to 16 couples, and music for dancing was provided by Bernie Ryall at the Hammond organ. Feature of the evening's entertainment was a Hawaiian dance performed by S. Lane and Mesdames K. Ficht and M. Atherton.

Committee Re-Elects Chairman

Mrs. Gerald Culver was re-elected chairman by acclamation of the six-month-old women's committee to Greater Victoria Art Centre. Other officers named at the annual meeting, held Tuesday evening at the Art Centre, are Mrs. C. M. Nelles, vice-chairman; Mrs. G. H. McWilliams, treasurer; Mrs. K. A. Jones, corresponding secretary, and Miss Joan Ellis, recording secretary.

Mrs. R. L. V. Jermain acted as nominations officer.

In her annual report, Mrs. Culver spoke of work of the committee as "volunteer service, fostering public relations and sponsoring projects that will help establish the Art Centre as a vital force in the community."

In six months, the group had grown from a nucleus of 17 to a membership of 66, Mrs. Culver said.

Other reports were given by Mrs. Nelles, interior decorating tour; Mrs. Donald Crysdale, secretary; Mrs. John Nation, spring ball; Mrs. P. D. P. Holmes, public relations; Miss Beth Collison, finance; Mrs. Audrey Baker, constitution; Mrs. M. Green, social receptions at the Art Centre.

Treasurer's report, given by Mrs. McWilliams, showed a balance of $428.44.

Miss Sara Spencer and Mrs. George Masters, who assisted in forming the group in November last year, were present and spoke briefly. Prior to the meeting a buffet supper was served from a table centred with bright spring tulips.

A Conference Leader

MISS CONSTANCE ELLIS

The three-day theatre conference which is a feature of Dominion Drama Festival finals next week, will have as its Victoria chairman, Miss Constance Ellis, who will work in conjunction with Miss Dorothy Somerset, University of B.C., general conference chairman.

Miss Ellis has been in Victoria less than a year, having taken what she describes as "sabbatical leave" from her post as vice-principal of famous Haverhill College for girls in Toronto.

However, Miss Ellis does not plan to return there, but may instead go to Oxford University as a lecturer. She was born at Oxford and graduated from the university, holding classical degrees of both Oxford and London Universities. The subjects in which she lectures are Latin and Greek.

Having motored across the continent to B.C., in company with retired Haverhill principal Miss Gladys Millard, and having lived in this city nine months, Miss Ellis is enthusiastic about Victoria and would like to stay.

"If circumstances permit, I shall remain—at least I won't be far away—just across the water," says Miss Ellis with her charming smile. She regards most things in the light of humor and enjoyment and approaches her task of chairing the Theatre Conference with a keen anticipation and a lively interest. Miss Ellis and Miss Millard are living in the Alberta Apartments, Vancouver Street.

Pioneers Name New President

Mrs. R. Malcolm, vice-president, was in the chair for meeting of Pioneers of Women's Benefit Association, Review No. 1, which took place at her home, 2824 Graham Street. Mrs. Malcolm was elected president owing to departure of Mrs. K. White for Edmonton, and Mrs. K. Jackson the vice-president.

At close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments assisted by Mesdames G. Andrews, M. Morley and M. Smith. Members present were Mesdames J. Bowden, M. Thompson, M. Stephens, K. White, G. Brown, J. Winters, M. Morley, B. Langley, K. Jackson, M. Veitch, E. Roberts, M. Smith, G. Andrews and K. Jacques.

An Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Plotnikoff, 3129 Tillicum Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vera, to Mr. Victor Bochko, son of Mrs. T. Bochko, 459 Superior Street. The wedding will take place on May 16 at 7.30 p.m. in First United Church. Matron of honor will be Mrs. D. Thompson, bridesmaids will be Miss Irene Andriest and Miss Lucy Planidin, and flower girl will be Miss Rose Kolinsky. (Photo by Jus-Rite)

Sadie Hawkins Dance

"Sadie Hawkins" dance was held in Ganges School, Salt Spring Island, directed by Norman Mout, president of Students' Council. Principal J. B. Foubister and Mrs. Foubister, Mr. and Mrs. G. Nelson, and Miss Olive Mout were guests at the dance which was attended by some 60 students. Music was by Testar's orchestra, and novelty dances were won by Josette Brown and Norman Mout, and Joan MacDonald and Bob Nelson. Grade IX students were in charge of supper which was convoked by Misses Eva Tahouney and Lynne Young.

One of Canada's Best-Dressed Shares Formula

TORONTO (CP)—Voted one of Canada's best-dressed women, Mrs. Ross Macdonald, wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, is willing to share her formula.

"Never overdress, for it is never embarrassing to be under-dressed," says Mrs. Macdonald. Interviewed at the fashion festival of a large department store here, Mrs. Macdonald said she relies on fit and fabric for smartness, likes soft colors and never dashes out at the last minute to buy her clothes. "Plan carefully," she said.

When she travels to the Coronation, Mrs. Macdonald will take, among other favored clothes, a black lace and white chiffon dress being made for her here.

Asked about family reaction to having mother a "best-dressed" woman, Mrs. Macdonald said: "My husband was really alarmed and my daughters laughed."

Class Reunion Brings Memories

A reunion of the Live Wires 2055 Scott Street, or Mrs. C. MacMillan, class, Victoria City Temple, was held at the home of Mrs. C. MacMillan, 3025 Blackwood Street, where happy memories were discussed and pictures taken to commemorate the occasion. Many of the class members were meeting for the first time since the church disbanded in 1935. Rev. Clem Davies was minister of the temple before going to Los Angeles.

Rooms were decorated with spring flowers and a basket lunch was enjoyed. Another gathering will be held in the summer when it is hoped to have a larger group of former members. Registrations may be made with Mrs. H. Laycock, 2055 Scott Street, or Mrs. C. MacMillan.

Those present were Mesdames C. MacMillan, R. McMillan, J. Ramsay, M. Luscombe, E. Moore, M. Dent, J. Wilmhurst, H. Laycock, M. Graham, E. Mycock, J. Brown, M. Whitehead, M. Anderson, A. Mayo, M. New Recipes Use Canned Foods in A Variety of Fascinating Ways

In a campaign to encourage homemakers to use more canned foods, new recipes have been issued by the Canned Foods Association of Ontario. One in particular—an apple sauce sherbet—sounds like an attractive dessert and one that could be prepared in a hurry if necessary.

Ingredients: One No. 2 can apple sauce; one-quarter cup corn syrup or honey; few grains salt; one tablespoon lemon juice; one-quarter cup orange juice; one-half teaspoon grated orange rind; one-half cup sugar; two egg whites.

Turn freezing regulator of refrigerator to coldest point. Combine apple sauce, syrup, salt, juice and rind with half the sugar. Mix well. Beat the egg whites until stiff; add the remaining sugar gradually, beating. Fold into the apple sauce mixture. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze. Six generous servings.

Something new in upside down cake is the following made with gingerbread mix and canned fruit cocktail.

Ingredients: Two cups canned fruit cocktail; two tablespoons butter; one-quarter cup brown sugar; one-half orange; one package gingerbread mixture.

Drain syrup from fruit into a heavy skillet and reduce by boiling to one-half cup. Add butter and sugar and stir until well mixed. Arrange paper-thin slices of unpeeled orange in skillet and cover with fruit. Mix the gingerbread, following directions on package. Pour carefully over the fruit mixture. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees Fahrenheit about 40 minutes, or until cake is done. Remove from oven and allow to stand five minutes. Turn out on serving plate.

FRUIT SALAD

A deep baking-pan may be used instead of a skillet. A recipe for fruit salad follows: Cover a large plate with chicory or lettuce leaves and put a bowl of mayonnaise in the centre. Divide the plate, or tray, into quarters with rows of orange slices and put well-drained canned fruits in each quarter.

The four spaces may be filled with the following: Peach halves filled with cottage cheese crowned with walnut halves; pear halves topped with chili or cranberry sauce; pineapple chunks; well-drained cherries.

This salad may be served with pimiento cheese and deviled ham sandwiches.

Home economists of the consumer section, Canadian department of agriculture, have a few suggestions about making an appetizing dish from leftover potatoes.

Interest is added to the mashed potato crust for meat pie by adding a little chopped onion, diced green pepper and celery and grated Cheddar

MEAT AND POTATO CAKES

Meat and potato cakes also are an easy-to-make supper dish. Combine one and one-half cups of diced or ground cooked meat with two cups of mashed potatoes. Add a beaten egg and a little minced onion. Combine the mixture and mould into cakes. Brown the cakes in hot fat and serve piping hot. A can of condensed cream of mushroom soup or cream of celery soup makes a good sauce to serve with the cakes.

4. There are twenty separate contests, each with an identical list of prizes. There is a new contest each day (except Saturday and Sunday) from April 27th to May 22nd inclusive. Entries received up to April 27th will be eligible for the first day's contest. Thereafter, entries will be entered in each day's contest as received. Entries for the final (twentieth) contest must be postmarked before midnight Friday, May 22nd and received by Friday, June 5th, 1953.
5. Prizes awarded each day will be: FIRST PRIZE—a 1953 Chevrolet "One-Fifty" 2-door sedan plus 1,000 gals. of Imperial Esso gasoline.
6. SECOND PRIZES—$100.00 cash each.
7. THIRD PRIZES—$25.00 cash each.
8. Entries will be judged for originality, sincerity and aptness of thought. Entries must be wholly the work of the person in whose name the entry is submitted except for incidental help from family and friends. Judges' decision will be final; these entries which in the opinion of the judges are best, will be awarded prizes in order of the judges' decision. In case of ties the full prize tied for will be awarded to each tying contestant. No entries will be returned. Entries, contents and ideas therein belong unconditionally to Procter & Gamble for any and all purposes.
9. Any resident of Canada may compete except employees of The Procter & Gamble Co. of Canada Ltd., General Motors Products of Canada Ltd., Imperial Oil Co. of Canada Ltd., their advertising agencies and their families. Contest subject to all Dominion regulations.
10. Except for the twentieth contest, the first prize winners' names will be announced Monday through Friday beginning approximately Monday, May 11th, over such radio programs as "Right to Happiness," "Young Dr. Malone" and others. The first prize winner in the twentieth contest will be announced on or about June 19th. All prize winners will be notified by mail. Winners' lists will be available approximately six weeks after the close of the last contest.

Dulles Promises U.S. People More Security for Less Cash

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary John Foster Dulles says he has notified the European allies that the "crutch" of United States economic aid should be thrown away now although the U.S. will continue to spend "substantial sums" with them.

In a report to the U.S. people over radio and television networks Wednesday night, Dulles said the Europeans "do not need to anticipate too great reduction in their dollar income."

"But our government will be specifically getting, for the dollars it spends abroad, what may enable it to save in other security measures and thus, on balance, get more security for less money."

The idea that the Eisenhower administration has arranged to provide greater Atlantic alliance defenses at lower cost forms the theme of Dulles' report on the meeting in Paris last week of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council and on his talks with British, French and other European officials.

AIMS ATTAINED

Dulles declared the council had accomplished these things:

1. Provided for a steady build-up of Western European defenses aimed at improving existing forces as well as adding some new strength. He said the increase in NATO's "combat effectiveness" this year will be 30 per cent. At the same time, the "excessive" economic strain on the U.S. and Allied countries would be relieved.
2. Unanimously adopted a resolution calling for prompt creation of the European Defense Community within which West Germany would be armed.

Dulles said the lack of German forces causes a "big gap" in the very centre of Europe's defense which "cannot be made good by any effort, however great, put forward by the other countries."

3. Agreed on a three-year program for developing airfields and other military facilities in the Western European countries which should make NATO forces "much more effective and secure."

4. Studied the "increased power" which new tactical weapons—presumably atomic weapons—can give to the defense of Europe. He added that the U.S. is starting the training of some Allied officers "in these matters, with due regard to security."

Throughout his speech Dulles put heavy emphasis on the need for getting German military forces organized. While calling for patience on the part of the U.S., he said pointedly that he hoped European parliaments would soon realize that there is "no other good solution" for getting adequate strength.

BODIES RECOVERED

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bodies of three Winnipeg residents, drowned in a hunting accident last fall, were recovered Wednesday from Big Whiteshell Lake, 90 miles east of here. The body of a fourth victim was recovered in November.

Bodies found Wednesday were identified as those of Thomas R. Kelly, 37; Lorne Lewis, 25, and Irene Jester, 37. The body previously found was that of Helene Lukinuk, 24.

An international test course, patterned after that used to select competitors for Olympic Games competition, and a gamblers' sweepstakes will be highlights of the holiday horse show to be staged Monday, May 18, by the Victoria Riding and Hunt Club.

The test course will include jumps more difficult than those used in competitions staged here before. The gamblers' sweepstakes will be staged in a ring containing nine jumps. The various jumps will have different point values. It will be left to each rider to choose five jumps and he will be given points for each one successfully negotiated. The rider with the highest aggregate score wins.

Jack Hargreaves, well-known horseman in Vancouver, will be judge of the show, which will be under patronage of Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace. Arrangements have been made to have the Victoria Shrine Band in attendance during the show, which will run from 1 to 5. Invitations have already been extended to patients of the DVA Hospital.

The show will be staged at the Riding Club's grounds on Cedar Hill Crossroad.

Baptist Rally for Missionaries

A husband and wife missionary team, due to retire shortly after serving 40 years in India, will be welcomed here Friday. The couple, Rev. and Mrs. Archibald Gordon, above, will address and show movies to a city-wide rally in the First Baptist Church Friday at 8. On Sunday Mr. Gordon will speak at Emmanuel Baptist Church during the morning service and at First Baptist in the evening. Mrs. Gordon, meanwhile, will be heard at Elk Lake Baptist Church at 11 on Sunday and at Douglas Street Baptist Church at 7.30. Starting with the Canadian Baptist Mission field in India in 1913, the couple saw much of India and served millions of its people in hundreds of widely scattered villages.

Rabid Dog Packs Loose in B.C. House Told

OTTAWA (CP)—George Murray, L.-Cariboo, said in the Commons Wednesday night that packs of dogs are running wild spreading rabies disease among livestock in the northern part of British Columbia around Prince George.

He asked Mr. Gardiner during a general discussion of agriculture estimates what the government proposed to do.

Mr. Gardiner replied that the Commons seemed to be getting pretty far afield. The question of dog packs should be taken up when the appropriate item in the estimates was reached.

The University of London, England, had more than 1,500 appointed and recognized teachers in 1950.

Frontiersmen To Supplement Police Forces

Members of the Victoria branch of the Legion of Frontiersmen, who have been screened and approved by police officials, will be sworn in as special constables.

This was the decision of the city police commission Wednesday after members had heard offers of Harold G. Philbrook, commander of the local corps of Frontiersmen.

"Our men want to place themselves at the disposal of the police for any emergency in which they can help," Mr. Philbrook told the board.

While the frontiersmen were reorganized for civil defense, Mr. Philbrook told the commissioners, "We will be at the beck and call of the police for whatever use they require us—and all will be ready 20 minutes after the chief calls."

Chief of police John Blackstock welcomed the proposal that the frontiersmen be sworn in as special officers, "but only on the proviso that no responsibility falls on the city in regard to their actions." The board saw eye-to-eye with him on that point.

Mr. Philbrook said the corps' strength now is 24 men, 13 of whom are qualified in first aid and civil defense work.

Trick Rear Light On Car Illegal

Motorists sporting miniature red-green-amber traffic lights at the rear of their cars are breaking the law, city police warned today.

"This equipment is illegal when lighted, as it is against the law to have green and amber lights at the rear of a vehicle," police traffic officers said.

All officers have been told to warn drivers they see with these lights in operation to remove them.

Police have asked seven local dealers to discontinue their sale.

Drug Under Doctor's Direction May Keep 'Easy Sleeper' Awake

Today's first question is particularly puzzling. Q. When I was a boy (I am now 62), I used to go to sleep in church and the habit stays with me. I can go to sleep at my desk, and in fact one day they put a sign on me and then I woke up. This usually happens after lunch, though I do not eat much. The doctors have found nothing organically wrong with me. If we have callers at home in the evening, I am just as apt to go to sleep while the others are doing the talking. I have no warning of any kind, it just happens, and my wife is very much disgusted when I say I can't help it. Do you have any comments? K.W.

A. This question revolves around whether the easy-going-to-sleep of which Mr. W. complains is really normal and just a habit which has developed over the years or whether there is some mental or physical reason in the background. According to what is said there does not seem to be any physical explanation.

There is, I suppose, a possibility that he at one time had a mild attack of brain fever or encephalitis, and quite likely a psychiatrist could think of other possibilities. In the absence of some definite explanation, however, and if the health is otherwise good, the use of some stimulating drug taken carefully under a physician's direction might be of some use.

Q. I have read of an injection which will change the blood pigment. The article asserted that its use would even turn white the skin of a negro. Do you know where such injections are obtainable and are they safe and inexpensive? Mrs. H.

A. I have never heard of such injections, do not believe that they exist, and should think that if they did they would be neither safe nor inexpensive.

VANISHING ACT JUST HOT AIR

OTTAWA (CP)—Costa Alexiade, 45, bake shop proprietor, was talking to a customer in his store Wednesday. Suddenly he disappeared. A hot-air register in the floor had given way. Alexiade dropped atop an unlighted furnace in the basement. He was treated at hospital for minor injuries.

Casey Protests Court Delay

Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich said today he is going to inquire from the municipal solicitor why the B.C. courts are taking so long to deal with a civil action involving two old houses on Whittier Avenue. The council has been waiting for months for the law to deal with the action of B.C. Singh, who is seeking a court order which would enable him to rebuild two condemned houses on Whittier, the reeve said. The civil action arose when B.C. Singh moved the two houses from a site along the provincial highway last December to the Whittier property without first obtaining a permit from the municipality. Residents in the area petitioned the council to have the houses removed because they did not comply with building by-laws of Saanich. B.C. Singh, through his solicitor Joseph McKenna, QC, notified the council that he was ready to rebuild the two houses so that they would comply with the municipal building code. The council refused his application, and the civil action followed. "The two old houses are still standing on Whittier and no one knows yet what's what," said the reeve. "I don't know why the law courts are taking so long to deal with this case."

Gosley Show To Entertain Legionnaires

The Canadian Legion, which last year sponsored Jerry Gosley's Smile Show on a trip to Korea, will be entertained by the troupe at its annual B.C. Command convention in Nanaimo May 24.

The Smile Show company will present for the Legionnaires a show similar to that which they gave the servicemen near the battle front in Korea. The Legion posted $2,000 to finance the overseas trip.

Unlike our own police the British constable goes about his work unarmed. Wise, courteous and implacable in his duty the PC is shown helping the citizenry locate missing daughters and missing dogs, straighten traffic snarls and assisting the aged across streets.

Not so humdrum is their duty, however, when a couple of young hoods knock off a jewelry store, then emboldened by their success, hold up a theatre. In this last effort Copper Jack Warner is bumped off and the whole of the police force is set in motion to capture the punks.

This is solid action entertainment.

Swedish Master Denies Blame in Sinking of Sub

CANAKKALE, Turkey (Reuters)—Capt. Oscar Lorentzon of the Swedish freighter Naboland was accused here Wednesday of causing the sinking of the Turkish submarine Dumlupinar and the deaths of 99 of her crew through negligence.

The captain, pleading innocent, told the court: "I believe the submarine entirely guilty. It did not have the lights needed by maritime rules."

The disaster occurred in the Dardanelles on the night of April 3, when the Dumlupinar, returning home from Atlantic Pact exercises in the Mediterranean, was cruising on the surface. Lorentzon's 4,000-ton ship, damaged in the collision, was seized April 5 pending the inquiry.

The hearings may last several months. Much of the evidence will be on technical points.

(REVIVAL) "BLUE LAMP"
 (Odeon): Paced by such J. Arthur Rank stars as Dirk Bogarde, Jack Warner and Robert Fleming this British film about the work of the famed London bobbie against the underworld is a more than satisfying crime-action picture.

Whereas the police case against young hoodlums is intense and interesting, it is the day-by-day account of a copper's life in and out of uniform, that provides "Blue Lamp" with its satisfying "body" and realism.

Unlike our own police the British constable goes about his work unarmed. Wise, courteous and implacable in his duty the PC is shown helping the citizenry locate missing daughters and missing dogs, straighten traffic snarls and assisting the aged across streets.

Not so humdrum is their duty, however, when a couple of young hoods knock off a jewelry store, then emboldened by their success, hold up a theatre. In this last effort Copper Jack Warner is bumped off and the whole of the police force is set in motion to capture the punks.

This is solid action entertainment.

(BB) "THE THIEF OF VENICE"
 (Odeon): Starring the late Maria Montez this is a cloak-and-dagger action picture that should appeal to all who like this sort of thing.

Although the dialogue is English this is an Italian-made film. It concerns the overthrow by the rabble led by Paul Christian of a cruel usurper who has taken Venice over after the death of the Doge.

The camera work of the dingy canals at night is particularly good.

NOTE—Owing to a stage attraction occupying the theatre on Thursday, the picture program will start again FRIDAY!

Poundkeeper Fined For Hanging Dog
 ALLISTON, Ont. (BUP)—Poundkeeper James Walsh, 68, was fined $157 or a month in jail for hanging a dog given to him with the understanding that he find it a good home.

Magistrate Gordon Foster told Walsh the offense was a "serious matter" which normally called for a jail term without option of fine.

Police said that within an hour after Walsh received two dogs from Mrs. Aileen Gibbard he hanged one and bludgeoned the other to death. A cruelty charge against him in the death of the second dog was withdrawn.

BY RAY SIDAWAY
The first energy-packed days of spring have hit Summerfield and no one feels it more than Father in "And Now It's Spring" on "Father Knows Best" tonight on KOMO at 10.

Jim Anderson, as do all young men in the spring, feels equipped to handle any emergency, including his daughter's dateless from night and his son's catastrophic adventures with ventriloquist devices and handcuffs.

Things come back to normal before the program ends, but not without creating some embarrassing situations, particularly where daughter Betty is concerned.

TUE WITH THE TIMES

A. Alfred Marcellio, alert city editor of the Worcester Telegram, mediated between police and a reluctant witness in a robbery of a Worcester bank to bring about the capture of the thief. His experience will be dramatized on tonight's broadcast of "The Big Story" on KOMO at 8.

Marlene Dietrich, as Diane LaVolta, tries to help out an American GI and becomes embroiled in the smuggling of a mink coat in "Fur Coat" on "Time For Love" tonight at 9 on KIRO.

She helps the Paris police catch the guilty man and once again astounds the faithful
Mike Victor.

Uranium Stock in Spectacular Jump

National Exploration, a uranium issue, soared to a new high of 78 cents on trade totalling almost 100,000 shares on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. The stock opened at 66 this morning, last week it traded around 57. National Exploration holds claims in the booming Beaverlodge uranium-prospect area of northwestern Saskatchewan.

Beaverlodge, another uranium, gained nine cents on VSE today, closing at 1.50. Other closing quotations: Quinsino 41½, Charter $1.79, York 39, Pioneer Oil $1.91, Peace River Natural Gas $7. (See also Page 14.)

Alcan Sued; Sequel to Ramp Crash

VANCOUVER (CP)—John F. Magor and John D. McRae, both of Prince Rupert, B.C., have started suit in British Columbia Supreme Court here for damages suffered when a ramp collapsed at Kemano Bay last year.

They are suing Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd., and Morrison-Knudsen Company of Canada Ltd., for an unspecified amount.

Magor, publisher of the Prince Rupert News, and McRae, a former member of the B.C. Legislature, were seriously injured. Alex Hunter, managing editor of the News, was killed.

New Criminal Code Probe Suggested

OTTAWA (BUP)—The House criminal code committee today voted to recommend the establishment of a Royal Commission or a joint parliamentary committee to review sections of the code dealing with capital and corporal punishment, insanity and lotteries.

The committee, driving to complete its study of the voluminous revision of the code, thus cleared the way to report the bill to the House for action before the end of the session.

Gil McDougald Among Ball Players Fined

CHICAGO (UP)—American League President Will Harridge today fined six players on the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns as a result of their first fight on the field during Tuesday night's game in St. Louis.

Clint Courtney, the St. Louis Browns' catcher who Harridge said was "mainly responsible for the brawl," was fined $250, the heaviest imposition.

Browns' shortstop Bill Hunter and Yankee second baseman Billy Martin were fined $150 each, and three Yankees, pitcher Allie Reynolds, first baseman Joe Collins and third baseman Gil McDougald, were fined $100 each.

4 BODIES RECOVERED
IN WAR PLANT BLASTPW Disposal
Problem
Nears AnswerNaming Neutral
Country Only
Stumbling Block

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—Informed sources indicated there is a good possibility that agreement can be reached Friday (Korean time) on a neutral nation to take charge of Communist war prisoners who refuse to go home, if the Red negotiators will just quit sailing.

The Reds were put on notice at today's session to come back Friday prepared to buckle down to a serious effort to remove that stumbling block to an armistice.

United Nations chief delegate, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, also told the Communists that the UN is not favorable to naming an Asian nation as the supervising neutral. But it was generally believed India might be accepted if named by the Reds.

What Harrison and his team want when they sit down with North Korean Gen. Nam Il and other Communist negotiators is some specific proposals rather than more lectures from the Red negotiators.

That would at least open the way for some serious horse trading.

CANADA'S POSITION

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today the Canadian government would not support a United Nations resolution of all Asiatic countries in selection of a neutral country to supervise Communist prisoners of war in Korea who don't want to be sent home.

However, he told the Commons, he has been informed by the Canadian embassy in Washington that press reports saying UN negotiators at Panmunjom have rejected any Asiatic country for that role "are not strictly accurate." His information was that no such stand was taken.

He was replying to M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, who asked about the press reports and about the government's attitude towards them.

Abandon Hope
For Miners,
Still Digging

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (BUP)—Grimy rescuers continued digging today for two miners entombed beneath thousands of tons of loose rock since Monday night but there was no hope they might be found alive.

Friends and fellow miners at the Wright-Hargreaves mine still dug around the clock by the light of their headlamps, even after mine officials admitted they did not know where or when the men might be reached.

The exhausted wives of Leo Murray, 25, and Leon Wojcowski, 39, were led away from the mine after keeping a vigil since early Tuesday.

The miners were buried in a rockburst which shook this mining town and filled the entire steps with rubble. Rescue crews risked their own lives digging to the spot where they were believed buried, only to find Wednesday that they had apparently gone to a lower level just before the blast.

Mine officials said the pair probably suffocated during their imprisonment if they had survived the blast.

Tilly Rolston
Says Pro-Rec
Was Octopus'Time People Paid
Their Own Way'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Education Minister Tilly Rolston Wednesday night described Pro Rec and its tremendous growth in British Columbia as an "octopus around the government's neck."

Speaking at a Social Credit rally in Point Grey along with her running mate for that constituency, Tom Bates, and guest Works Minister Rev. P. A. Gallagher, she said it is time the people paid themselves for their own recreation.

"After all, the government isn't Santa Claus," she continued. "Are we going to pay for recreation for every person in this province?"

Mrs. Rolston said Pro Rec would still get $94,000 to help their operation—$19,000 from the federal government and $75,000 provincially.

HANGING YOURSELF

The "mother" of the Rolston Formula, the Waterloo of the party's government last month, then turned to the subject closest to her—financing education.

"You are just hanging yourself by insisting on taking 1 per cent from the 3 per cent sales tax for education," she said.

Social Credit, she stated, wants to see education finance on a "solid foundation" and recession or depression could cut the bottom out of school budgets relying on a fluctuating levy such as sales tax.

"Remarkable" work being done by Attorney-General Robert Bonner regarding the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, said:

"They are going to have to put up or shut up. There are not two sets of laws and the Doukhobors will have to learn that if we have to obey the laws, so do they."

Prairies Get Snow

EDMONTON (CP)—A light, consistent rain was general over the Prairies today and some snow was reported in Alberta, interrupting spring grain seeding just as it was getting under way.

Calgary and Grand Prairie reported an inch of snow, and lesser amounts fell at Red Deer, Claresholm, Lethbridge and Cowley.

Wife Sues

In New York today attorneys for the Marchioness of Milford Haven announced she has begun a legal action against her husband, who is a cousin of Queen Elizabeth.

Lord Milford Haven was the best man at the wedding of the Queen to Prince Philip. Neither the marchioness, her attorney, nor the attorney for Milford Haven would say what the action was. He married the American divorcee, Romaine Dalgren Pierce Simpson in Washington, Feb. 4, 1950. The couple has been separated since before Christmas.

Dozen Others Hurt
In Big Explosion

PEABODY, Mass. (BUP)—A terrific explosion wrecked a war chemical plant here today and police reported at least four workers were killed and a dozen injured.

Police said four bodies had been recovered from the blazing ruins of the main building of the American Resinous Chemicals Corp. plant.

J. B. Thomas hospital reported a dozen workers had been taken there for treatment of severe burns. Police said 22 persons were at work in the main building, a 250-foot-long three-story wooden structure, when the blast occurred at 2 p.m. (EDT). Other workers were busy in smaller outbuildings of the plant.

All available ambulances were rushed to the scene and fire apparatus was called from a dozen nearby communities. An hour and a half after the blast, its cause was not yet determined.

Windows were shattered over a two-mile radius and streets around the wrecked plant were littered with broken glass. Half a dozen automobiles parked nearby had their roofs caved in by debris.

The plant makes plastics and adhesives—both highly inflammable—for industrial work, and was engaged in filling government contracts.

A woman employee of a nearby factory said she heard what sounded like the hiss of escaping steam—"Then, wham, the roof blew off."

Salvors asked for a $50 monthly wage increase, retroactive to March 1, 1952. A majority conciliation board recommended a $30 increase retroactive to Sept. 1.

Transportation faces a second tie-up in the possibility of a strike wage among 3,000 street railwaymen of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

Employees, including 250 Victoria bus drivers and bus maintenance men, asked for a 23-cent hourly increase over their present wage of $1.51. A conciliation board majority award recommended only six cents.

The Street Railwaymen's Union has called its nine-man advisory board for a Friday session, when a decision will be made, but some leaders already have expressed "strong disappointment" in the award.

INCOME TAX DEADLINE MIDNIGHT

Midnight tonight is the deadline for payment of 1952 federal income taxes.

The local office in the Belmont Building remained open until 5 p.m., but returns mailed before midnight tonight will be within the deadline.

Officials remind taxpayers that the money, as well as the return, must be filed by midnight to avoid a 5 per cent penalty.

CROSSWORD CONTEST WINNER

Sidney Roofing Man Takes $125 Prize

The first correct solution in the Times crossword contest has been submitted by Ernest A. Thomas, 625 Battery Street, who took the full prize of $125.

Mr. Thomas, a 35-year-old employee of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company, answered all the definitions correctly to Puzzle No. 5.

He was notified of his win as he was sitting down to supper Wednesday night and presented with the prize cheque by Times reporter Humphrey Davy.

The money will really come in handy, he said.

He has four children, two boys and two girls, and is building a home.

Mr. Thomas submitted three entries in the contest. He intended to make a change in his third one, he said, but decided to let it stand, and it turned out to be the only correct solution.

As a result of Mr. Thomas' win, the prize for puzzle No. 6 will revert back to the original $25. The puzzle appears tomorrow. The correct solution to Puzzle No. 5 is on page 8.

THE POLITICAL POT

Premier Bennett said today membership in the B.C. Social Credit League is nearing the 50,000 mark, and the party is planning to step up its grass roots organizing campaign.

He claimed Social membership is greater than all other parties combined—and then some.

The premier disclosed the membership figures on the eve of his month-long campaign tour which will begin at Summerland Monday.

He said the party's growing membership is the result of "distrust" of the old-line parties, and "fear" of Socialism.

Saanich CCF candidate Frank Snowball has written to municipal councils proposing that they sponsor joint public meetings at which candidates should present the municipal and educational finance policies of their parties.

Victoria Social candidate William Chant, speaking at a Norway House meeting Wednesday night, put it in a Social nutshell when he commented:

"And now, to run over some of the parties. . ."

Mr. Chant had to appeal for aid at the climax of his speech.

"I will finish," he said, "with the four principles of the Social Credit party."

And then he turned to running mate Mrs. Lydia Arsenault with the appeal: "I've forgotten just what they are for the moment?"

Liberals are rejoicing over the selection of Maj. Gen. Victor Odium as candidate in Vancouver-Burrard. His running mate will be former MLA Jay Gould.

Gen. Odium is returning to B.C. political wars after an absence of 25 years. He was Second World War commander of the 2nd Division and a former Canadian ambassador to Turkey.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Education Minister Tilly Rolston Wednesday night described Pro Rec and its tremendous growth in British Columbia as an "octopus around the government's neck."

5 Dead, 51 Missing

BUENAVENTURA, Colombia (UP)—Five persons were listed as dead and 51 were missing today in the sinking of the Colombian motorship Dochara in coastal waters of the Pacific Ocean. Officials said 23 survivors had been picked up.

The vessel left here carrying 70 national police employees and a crew of nine. It sprang a leak and sank 14 miles from Bahia de Cupica.

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—TV sets that will allow the viewer to register a push-button reaction to the program, a $300 video camera, and a one-man TV station were some of the exhibits on display here today at the 31st annual convention of Radio and Television Broadcasters.

Here are some of the new innovations which promise the movies even tougher competition in the future:

(1) A button on a home TV set that, when pressed, will register a vote of "Yes" or "No" at the television station showing viewers' reaction to the program. In this way stations could hold on-the-spot national polls on any subject.

(2) Delegates witnessed the first three-dimensional television. Viewers wearing polaroid glasses saw rocket ships and puppets on the 3-D screen. ABC engineers said it would be possible to convert a home TV set into a 3-D receiver for about $150.

(3) A "Station": This is a cigar-sized camera used for projecting and transmitting motion pictures on television. Some cameras now cost a station $1,200. This one is labeled for only $300. The Station makes the televised films look as sharp as those in a movie theatre.

(4) General Electric proudly showed off its one-man TV station. Now at least six men are required to operate television equipment sending out those boxing matches and puppet shows into your living room. But GE's simplified TV station controls will make it possible for a small town businessman to launch a TV station with a modest investment—and he'll need only one man to operate it, using film programs.

(5) The Philco people have a gadget which they claim will eliminate the "flicker" from movies. The film runs continuously, instead of the usual frame-by-frame method.

(6) At the exhibit, the Philco equipment also was telecasting films in color. But engineers said it will be two years at least before color TV will be available for your home screens.

Red Troops Grab Final Laos Outpost

Showdown Fight for Capital Imminent

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—Invading Vietnamese Communist forces captured another French outpost today in their drive toward the beleaguered royal capital of Luang Prabang in Laos kingdom.

The French high command said Franco-Laotian troops withdrew Wednesday night from fortifications at Muong Sung, 35 miles north of Luang Prabang, and that Red forces occupied the town early today.

Muong Sung was one of the last remaining French positions outside the royal citadel's defense perimeter—where an estimated 9,000 French union troops are dug in.

The French said Wednesday the showdown battle for Luang Prabang might start today or tomorrow.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Well-informed Senators said today the Eisenhower administration stands ready to do everything possible, short of sending fighting men, to strengthen the shaky French grip on Indo-China.

Legislators who heard Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in secret session Wednesday came away with the strong impression that the administration regards war-torn Indo-China as a potential Communist spring-board to all of southeast Asia and perhaps India beyond.

Korean Nurse Clips U.S. PW's Toes Off

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
TOKYO (AP)—"I'll give you a week to live—I get your boots when they take you to the hill," a buddy told Cpl. Wendell H. Treffery.

"My buddy didn't want my boots—he was building my morale," the thin Treffery of Terryville, Conn., said in an interview today.

The hill was frozen, common grave of Americans who died while prisoners of the Communists at Kangye, Korea, in the terrible winter of 1950-51.

Of 350 United States infantrymen captured by Chinese on November 30, 1950, south of the Changjin reservoir, Treffery is one of less than 40 still living.

His feet froze. A Korean nurse snipped off eight of his toes with garden shears.

During four attacks of dysentery, Treffery's weight dropped from 150 to 80 pounds.

A former medic with the U.S. 7th division, he was one of the American prisoners returned by

Strike Votes Threaten In Three Unions

Seafarers, Busmen Saanich Arbitrate

Threats of strikes that will affect most of Victoria loomed on the labor front today.

A strike vote is well under way in the Seafarers' International Union (TCL) and results of the vote should be made known next week.

The 1,000 seamen in the union represent the majority of crewmen aboard CPR, CNR and Union Steamship vessels.

Sailors asked for a $50 monthly wage increase, retroactive to March 1, 1952. A majority conciliation board award recommended a $30 increase retroactive to Sept. 1.

BUS TIE-UP?

Transportation faces a second tie-up in the possibility of a strike vote among 3,000 street railwaymen of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

Employees, including 250 Victoria bus drivers and bus maintenance men, asked for a 23-cent hourly increase over their present wage of $15.1. A conciliation board majority award recommended only six cents.

The Street Railwaymen's Union has called its nine-man advisory board for a Friday session, when a decision will be made, but some leaders already have expressed "strong disappointment" in the award.

DISSATISFACTION

Mounting dissatisfaction among Saanich municipal employees with the wage recommendations of a conciliation board threatened today to lead to taking of a strike vote.

Inside and outside workers rejected the board's recommendations at a meeting Wednesday, and voiced strong criticism of the municipal council's compromise proposals.

The board recommended 25-cent increases for only four categories—truck drivers, crane operators, bulldozer drivers and cement finishers—to a new rate of $1.50 per hour.

A union official described the awards of the board as "nonsensical."

"The wages of some of the workers were raised to rates higher than received by some of the foremen," he said. "Some of the workers who are underpaid got nothing."

Coronation Medal Given Queen's Okay

LONDON (CP)—The Queen has approved a Coronation medal, her personal souvenir of the Coronation, it was announced today.

Individuals selected for the traditional medal in the United Kingdom will receive it shortly after the Coronation. The medals will be shipped in bulk to the Commonwealth countries for dispersal to persons chosen by arrangement with the individual governments and at a time to be settled in each country.

Number of medals to be struck was not disclosed.

Some probable Canadian recipients are troops and other personnel taking part in the Coronation procession, as well as prominent citizens.

Wife Sues

In New York today attorneys for the Marchioness of Milford Haven announced she has begun a legal action against her husband, who is a cousin of Queen Elizabeth. Lord Milford Haven was the best man at the wedding of the Queen to Prince Philip. Neither the marchioness, her attorney, nor the attorney for Milford Haven would say what the action was. He married the American divorcee, Romaine Dalgren Pierce Simpson in Washington, Feb. 4, 1950. The couple has been separated since before Christmas.

Coronation Medal Given Queen's Okay

LONDON (CP)—The Queen has approved a Coronation medal, her personal souvenir of the Coronation, it was announced today.

Individuals selected for the traditional medal in the United Kingdom will receive it shortly after the Coronation. The medals will be shipped in bulk to the Commonwealth countries for dispersal to persons chosen by arrangement with the individual governments and at a time to be settled in each country.

Number of medals to be struck was not disclosed.

Some probable Canadian recipients are troops and other personnel taking part in the Coronation procession, as well as prominent citizens.

Gil McDougald Among Bill Players Fined

CHICAGO (UP)—American League President Will Harridge today fined six players on the New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns as a result of their first fight on the field during Tuesday night's game in St. Louis.

Clint Courtney, the St. Louis Browns' catcher who Harridge said was "mainly responsible for the brawl," was fined $250, the heaviest imposition.

Browns' shortstop Bill Hunter and Yankee second baseman Billy Martin were fined $150 each, and three Yankees, pitcher Alie Reynolds, first baseman Joe Collins and third baseman Gil McDougald, were fined $100 each.

Canada Stands By Asiatic Nations

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today the Canadian government would not support a United Nations rejection of all Asiatic countries in selection of a neutral country to supervise Communist prisoners of war in Korea who don't want to be sent home.

However, he told the Commons, he has been informed by the Canadian embassy in Washington that press reports saying UN negotiators at Panmunjom have rejected any Asiatic country for that role "are not strictly accurate."

He was replying to M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, who asked about the government's attitude towards them.

The Association Press reported from Panmunjom Wednesday that the American head of the negotiating team said no Asiatic country would be acceptable because all Asian countries "are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military, economic or political influence."

First Bombs Used Against Mau Mau

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—Bombs were used in the fight against Mau Mau terrorism for the first time today. Eight 20-pound bombs were dropped in an air raid on a suspected terrorist hideout in the Aberdare mountains.

Three RAF Harvard trainers carried out the raid. The target was 10,000 feet up a mountain slope.

"When a man died, the Koreans would tumble his body out of the room, and take it up the hill to the grave. Once, the men among us who would walk were allowed to fix a cross and stagger up the hill to the grave and plant the cross there."

"I was unconscious for three days after we got to Kangye. All the meat came off the bottom of my feet and all of the meat came off my toes and the bones were sticking out."

"In February a Korean nurse gave me the first medical attention I got, if you could call it that. She walked in with a pair of garden shears and clipped off eight of my toe bones, leaving the big toe bones. I broke them off later with my fingers."

Naming Neutral Nation Only Stumbling Block

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—Informed sources indicated there is a good possibility that agreement can be reached Friday (Korean time) on a neutral nation to take charge of Communist war prisoners who refuse to go home if the Red negotiators will just quit stalling.

The Reds were put on notice at today's session to come back Friday prepared to buckle down to a serious effort to remove that stumbling block to an armistice.

United Nations chief delegate, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, also told the Communists that the UN is not favorable to the naming an Asian nation as the supervising neutral. But it was generally believed India might be accepted if named by the Reds.

What Harrison and his team want when they sit down with North Korean Gen. Nam Il and other Communist negotiators is some specific proposals rather than more lectures from the Red negotiators.

That would at least open the way for some serious horse trading.

Harrison has indicated the UN is willing to go along with some concessions on the length of time reluctant Red prisoners would be held in Korea while Communist salesmen attempt to convince them they should go back to their Red homelands.

But he also made it clear to the Reds today that he is prepared to suspend the current series of negotiations unless the Communists come up with some constructive proposals.

Harrison did give the Reds one other alternative.

He suggested sarcastically, that the United Nations could handle its North Korean war prisoners in the same manner the Communists handled 50,000 South Koreans they had captured.

The Reds, he recalled, "released" the South Koreans and promptly impressed them into the North Korean army. Harrison told Nam Il that a similar "release" of North Koreans was one possible solution to the PW problem.

"They didn't seem overjoyed at the suggestion," Harrison grinned.
